AFTER AIR FORCE, ARMY SHIFTS ITS ANNUAL DAY PARADE OUT OF DELHI

The move came after the Centre asked the military and paramilitary entities to spread their events across the country, not just in Delhi

EVENT TO BE HELD UNDER SOUTHERN COMMAND

From next year, the Indian Army Day parade will be celebrated under the Southern Command area. The Indian Air Force had also recently moved out its annual fly-past and parade from the Hindon Air Base near Delhi to Chandigarh this year. The flypast on October 8 is expected over Sukhna Lake. Earlier, it used to be conducted at the Palam base in Delhi

VENUE TO BE CHANGED EVERY YEAR

- Army officials said the parade would be held at different locations on a rotational basis and the venue would change every year
- Prime Minister Narendra Modi has been hosting foreign dignitaries in different cities. Events like Defexpo are being held outside Delhi
- The aim is to foster a deeper connect with people across India

EC plans to choke cash flow to parties

Writes to Law Ministry suggesting cash component of donations be restricted to 20% of the overall funds, with annual cap at ₹20 crore; Anonymous donations can only be ₹2,000

SHAHID FARIDI @ New Delhi

THE Election Commission of India is reported to have sent a proposal to the Union law ministry seeking to cap cash donations to political parties at 20% of the total annual receipts with a maximum of ₹20 crore, and bringing down anonymous political donations from ₹20,000 to ₹2,000.

The proposal sent by Chief Election Commissioner Rajiv Kumar to Union Law Minister Kiren Rijiju suggests a slew of amendments in the Representation of the People Act to check the flow of black money into the election process.

As per the existing Section 29C of the Representation of the People Act, 1951, political parties are required to give the EC details of donors contributing in excess of ₹20,000. If the government accepts the proposal, parties will have to provide the EC names and other details of all donors contributing in excess of ₹2,000.

But, bringing down anonymous donations from ₹20,000 to ₹2,000 will not in any way check the flow of cash into political parties. It will at best add to the parties' clerical work as they will have to issue more 'coupons' showing donations under ₹2,000.

Political parties have developed a coupon system for collecting funds to evade the EC radar. They issue coupons to internally account for the cash donations they receive. Hence, the reduction of the limit of anonymous contribution will not hamper their cash collection.

However, the proposal that has sent alarm bells ringing for the opposition parties is the capping of cash donation at ₹20 crore. Political parties have been showing cash receipts of hundreds of crores annually by issuing coupons. If the EC recommendations are accepted, their annual cash receipt will be capped at ₹20 crore.

BSP MP Kunwar Danish Ali said the cap on cash donations would tilt the playing field in favour of large parties. "Our party — the BSP — runs on small donations from individuals. Large companies do not fund us. Capping cash contribution at ₹20 crore is clearly aimed at choking the flow of funds to the opposition, especially smaller parties like ours that run on crowd-funding. We will oppose this move."

He said companies and high net worth individuals are afraid of giving money to opposition parties as they fear government backlash.

"Now, the government wants to stop small donors from funding us," he said. Parties such as the BSP have been receiving over 75% of their contribution in cash, which runs into hundreds of crores.

Transparancy activists have for long been demanding full accountability for all monetary contributions to parties, including via electoral bonds, to clean up the poll process.

HC forms panel to inquire into implementation of CAG report

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ Bengaluru

DIRECTING that no authority should either conduct a parallel inquiry or pass orders on managing storm water drains, the Karnataka High Court constituted a three-member committee and asked it to submit a report on the measures taken by the BBMP on implementation of the recommendations of 'Report of the Comptroller and Auditor General of India on Performance Audit of Management of Storm Water in Bengaluru Urban Area'.

A division bench of acting Chief Justice Alok Aradhe and Justice S Vishwajith Shetty passed the order on Monday after hearing a PIL.

"It was brought to our notice that a performance audit has been conducted on maintenance of SWDs and a report has been submitted by the CAG. Admittedly, the BBMP received the report in September 2021. BBMP's counsel was unable to explain what substantial steps have been taken for the implementation of the recommendations," the HC said. Judicial commission to probe encroachments

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ Bengaluru

CHIEF Minister Basavaraj Bommai said on Monday that the state government has decided to set up a judicial commission to probe encroachment of lakes, tanks, buffer zones and storm water drains (SWD) in Bengaluru, in the wake of recent floods that caused widespread havoc in the city.

Bommai told the Legislative Assembly that the probe team will track the history of encroachments as to when and by whom the lakes and drains were encroached upon and developed into layouts and roads, who were the officers responsible for sanctioning it and who was in power at that time.

Bommai said the commission will be headed by a judicial officer and will include technical experts. "We need a strong will to stop this. The whole system has gone wrong," he said. The CM alleged there was an attempt by the previous governments to encroach dry lakes and there was also a cabinet decision to wipe out such lake areas from the map so that the land can be used for real estate. But strong protests from the public forced the government to withdraw their decisions. P2

It's Gehlot vs Tharoor for Congress top job

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ New Delhi

ELECTIONS to the post of Congress president may see a contest between senior party leader Shashi Tharoor and Rajasthan Chief Minister Ashok Gehlot. Tharoor, who met interim party chief Sonia Gandhi at her residence on Monday, has received the go-ahead to contest the polls, scheduled to be held on October 17, said sources.

"Anyone can contest the election. It will be fair and transparent," Sonia reportedly told Tharoor, a member of G-23 group, which has been seeking internal reforms in the party.

Earlier on Monday, the Thiruvananthapuram MP had also supported a petition by party members demanding 'reforms' in the Congress.

The filing of the nominations for the post of president will begin in three days. Endorsing Sonia's view, senior Congress leader Jairam Ramesh said that the election is an open, democratic and transparent process.

IN a significant move, the state cabinet took a decision to extend benefits enjoyed by state government employees to 13,133 pourakarmikas across the state. A senior cabinet minister said that 5,533 pourakarmikas come under City Municipal Councils (CMC), Town Municipal Councils (TMC) and Town Panchayats, 3,673 pourakarmikas come under the BBMP and the remaining are come under corporations of Mangaluru, Mysuru, Hubballi-Dharwad, Belagavi and Kalaburagi. The 13,133 pourakarmikas will now be covered in the salary bracket of Rs 17,000 to Rs 29,950. P4

Bengal Assembly passes resolution against ED, CBI

PRONAB MONDAL @ Kolkata

WEST Bengal on Monday became the first state in the country to adopt an Assembly resolution criticising raids by Central law enforcement agencies, saying they were selectively targeting ruling party functionaries to create an atmosphere of fear, but tactically kept Prime Minister Narendra Modi out of the firing line.

Chief Minister Mamata Banerjee accused unnamed BJP politicians for misusing agencies like the Enforcement Directorate (ED) and the CBI but said she does not believe the prime minister is responsible for their excesses. The resolution came at a time when Central agencies are probing major cases like the school jobs scam, cattle smuggling and coal pilferage in which powerful Trinamool Congress leaders figure as accused. Trans scholar exposes baby-selling incident

K SHIVA KUMAR @ Mysuru

A transgender, pursuing her PhD at Mysore University, has exposed an incident of a newborn being sold by a poor couple in the backward Chamarajanagar district recently.

Deepa Buddhe, who is working on the topic of 'Mysuru-Chamarajanagar Districts Transgender Communities: A critical study on the lives and struggle', was in Chamarajanagar for a survey when she was informed that the baby had been sold for Rs 50,000. Deepa voluntarily gathered more information and evidence to prove that a baby selling racket prevails in the region and has now approached the authorities concerned seeking justice for the baby's mother. The baby was born to Basava, a hotel staffer, and Nagaveni 25 days ago. Against the consent of Nagaveni, Basava decided to sell the baby to a person in Galipura. Nagaveni later revealed that Basava forcibly made her agree to the deal, citing their financial condition. P3

DEMOLITION DRIVE

Palike brings out bulldozers after a break

Clears BWSSB bridge, sheds in Mahadevapura; Builders claim they have BDA approvals

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Bengaluru

AFTER a weekend break for its storm water drain encroachment removal drive, BBMP resumed its much debated operations on Monday. Mahadevapura Special Commissioner Dr KV Trilok Chandra said the drive was taken up at five places on Monday.

The first target was a concrete bridge built by Bangalore Water Supply and Sewerage Board (BWSSB) on its Sewage Treatment Plant premises behind Marathahalli Police Station in Kadubeesanahalli, which has come up on a storm water drain that connects the Bellandur wetlands.

The compound wall of an apartment near Garudacharpalya Lake was cleared. A shed on the rajakaluve behind East Park Ridge and road built on it were also cleared.

In response to the BBMP's drive, CEO of Puravankara Limited Abhishek Kapoor said: "Puravankara's Park Ridge on 13 acres of land here is legitimate, as per the plan approvals given by BDA. BBMP has no locus standi as far as this property is concerned, as the approvals were given by BDA."

Chandra said, "Encroachment clearance drive is being taken up following the Revenue department report. The markings were done by the department and the drive taken up accordingly, which has the old as well as new list."

BBMP claims that a 2.4-metre canal covered with slabs at Wipro premises is being cleared under the supervision of corporation officials. A 75-metre long compound wall and two sheds were cleared on both sides of the rajakaluve in Vijayalakshmi Colony of Kadugodi.

Notices were given to eight of 10 houses on the rajakaluve. As some of the dwellers gathered and asked the Palike to move its excavators to high-profile areas and villas, sensing a law and order issue, marshals and police were deployed, and the drive was taken up. It will continue on Tuesday too.

After BBMP moved its excavators to Green Wood Residency, an apartment complex next to Wipro to clear a 150-metre long block on the rajakaluve, residents raise doubts. Jayashankar S Nair said, "The society has been existing for 17 years, and now all of a sudden the civic body has a problem. It looks like we are becoming soft targets of this drive."

Need other solutions, Council to govt

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @Bengaluru:

MEMBERS of the Legislative Council suggested that the government should look for alternative solutions, instead of demolishing buildings on rajakaluves. During the discussion on floods caused by recent rain on Monday, BJP MLC HS Gopinath said since the mistake is done, demolition is not the only solution and the government must think of alternatives. "HSR Layout, which is a BDA Layout, was also flooded in the past few years and water entered bungalows. But officials worked out a plan and built a drainage network under the road. As a result, there was no flooding this time, despite unprecedented rain in the city," he said. The government must make use of technology and introduce alternative solutions. "When we can bore an underground tunnel for Metro, finding a solution to ensure free flow of water should not be a problem," Gopinath added.

JDS member SL Bhojegowda slammed the government for stopping the demolition drive and questioned the reason behind it. "When buildings belonging to common people are demolished, what was the problem in demolishing those belonging to influential people? We should know whether the government intervened or the Chief Minister intervened. What action is taken against officials who approved the plans?" he asked.

Rain has damaged coffee plantations and other crops in Malnad region and the government should come to the rescue of farmers, he said.

REVENUE Minister R Ashoka said, "The flood havoc in Bengaluru was man-made as the previous government did not have a vision for the city and allowed constructions on lake bed areas. In Bengaluru, as many as 42 lakes were closed," he said.

At this point, former Bengaluru Development Minister and Congress MLA K J George said he or his government has not encroached any lakes or closed them. "But BJP workers are trolling me by making false allegations against me. Let there be a probe" he said.

Bommai's claim that the BJP had not named George and he should not take it personally led to protest by the Congress.

"Does it mean, the government will demolish Kempegowda Bus Station and Dharmambudi lake will be reconstructed," Leader of Opposition, Siddaramiah questioned.

Fix infra issues, BBMP told

THE court also directed the BBMP to remove the remaining 626 encroachments on SWDs and submit reports to it every fortnight. Granting 10 days time to fill the remaining 221 potholes using hot mix on major roads of the city, the court said that a PIL was filed in 2015 seeking directions to fill the potholes on major roads and arterial roads and also for removal of encroachments on SWDs/drainage system. "From time to time, several directions have been issued by the court. Undoubtedly, the BBMP, a statutory body, has an obligation to repair and maintain roads. It also cannot be disputed that the citizens have the right to have roads without potholes for which corresponding responsibility vests on authorities", the court said.

BBMP's claims on removal of encroachments doubtful: CAG

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @Bengaluru

THE report of the Comptroller and Auditor General of India on 'Performance Audit of Management of Storm Water in Bengaluru Urban Area' submitted in September 2021 revealed that the veracity of BBMP's claim about the number of encroachments identified and number of encroachments removed was doubtful.

During joint inspection of about 70 drains, an audit observed 23 cases of significant encroachments. Of these, 16 cases were not on the list provided by BBMP. Thus, the completeness and reliability of data on encroachments was doubtful.

Giving an illustration in support of the findings, the CAG report stated that a primary SWD under Rajarajeshwari Nagar zone was encroached upon by constructing Padmavathi and Meenakshi Kalyana Mantapas. As per information furnished for audit by BBMP, the encroachment was removed on August 18, 2016.

However, a joint physical inspection showed that the kalyana mantapas were existing on either side of the drain and were connected with a concrete platform linking the two buildings. The impact of the encroachment was rainwater entering the dining area of the kalyana mantapas.

Tech firms will stay put in B'luru: CM

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@Bengaluru

AFTER a media report that IT and BT companies may move out of Bengaluru, Chief Minister Basavaraj Bommai on Monday expressed confidence that they will stay put as the city has an edge over other places in terms of skilled technical manpower.

"I want to tell you that Bengaluru is a base for technical skill with nice culture and weather. Companies will not move out, but will come over here from other places of the country," he said in the state assembly.

He said Bengaluru has an edge over other cities as public sector units here have been advancing technology in collaboration with research institutions during the seventies. Many PSUs in Bihar got defunct whereas in Karnataka they have survived, he pointed out.

"The credit should go to our people as the companies have been benefiting from the applications of technological innovations. Our duty is to safeguard that legacy," he said.

He, however, clarified that the drive to clear encroachments from storm water drains will continue.

"Many IT and BT companies do not have their own buildings and builders who had developed tech parks encroached upon storm water drains. There will be no compromise with them as the drive to clear the encroachments will continue," he said.

The New Indian Express had highlighted the concerns of various industry associations in its report 'Infra woes may force firms out of B'luru, says India Inc' on Monday.

Revenue Minister R Ashoka pointed out that former Infosys director T V Mohandas Pai had also said that 80 per cent of Bengaluru is safe. Leader of opposition Siddaramaiah disputed this and asked Ashoka to take note of what Zerodha founder Nitin Kamath had said about Bengaluru and the solutions he had offered to tackle flooding.

Daily Starscope

PETER VIDAL

20TH September : To continue this week's literary theme, it's not well-known that Henry Miller, one of the most famous American writers of the twentieth-century, also studied and wrote about astrology. In one of his books he provided a complete description of the role and function of the planet Saturn. In another, he described how he hung out with his favourite astrologers at his home in California.

ARIES (Mar 21 - Apr. 20)
It is still a fact of life that little will go your way unless you make a leap of the imagination and try to see the world through fresh eyes. There is a lot to recommend the perspective which a close partner has now adopted - and you have much to learn.

TAURUS (Apr. 21 - May 21)
You have little real reason to feel hurt or betrayed, the reason being that you are as responsible as anyone else for the direction that events have taken. The solution is to be more aware of your own motives in future, for self-awareness leads to self-discipline, and great success.

GEMINI (May 22 - June 21)
It is pleasant to be praised by people who are more accomplished than you. The way forward lies in restoring old friendships, thanks to Venus' dominant position. Try to focus on the bigger picture - on what partners actually mean, rather than on what they've said.

CANCER (June 22 - July 23)
The overall planetary position is calm, yet these are still exciting times for Cancerians. Therefore, you can, indeed must, continue to push for the fulfilment of your personal ambitions with no hint of compromise. And if you meet major obstacles, slow down, pause for thought and then redouble your efforts.

LEO (July 24 - Aug. 23)
The real key to current twists and turns lies in a dimension of astrology more subtle than that revealed in your solar chart. The really important developments are not yet clear, and that's why you should tread with care, caution and consideration for your companions.

VIRGO (Aug. 24 - Sept. 23)
Many of you have not had much luck communicating clearly in recent months - all of you can point to some situation or other where you could have been more persuasive. One option now is to distinguish what is useful on a practical level from your emotions and irrational fears.

LIBRA (Sept. 24 - Oct. 23)
A little-known characteristic of your sign is its connection with generals and military men. This is of interest now because over the next two weeks you still have the opportunity to fight and win an important battle. But you need allies who will stick by you, no matter what.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24 - Nov. 22)
Almost everything, from the initial planning stage until the final act, seems to be taking place with a degree of secrecy. If other people are unaware of what is going on you must take it upon yourself to protect their interests. They would expect no less!

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23 - Dec. 22)
Make partnership the key to your success over the next two weeks. You must take on board a few simple home truths particularly that, if you collaborate, you may seriously enhance your prospects. Also, if you still have a long-held but undeveloped creative talent, now is the time to let rip.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 23 - Jan. 20)
In no circumstances must you be pressurised into abandoning your personal career or worldly ambitions, no matter if partners do try a little emotional blackmail. The people who try to pressurise you might have little idea of your actual needs, so you may have to sit down and tell them once again!

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 - Feb. 19)
Believe it or not this is now the astrologically ideal moment for a journey into the unknown! This may not fit in with other pressures, but perhaps you can make a start on future plans. Actually, it's a day which could bring new responsibilities and professional opportunities.

PISCES (Feb. 20 - Mar 20)
There are sound astrological reasons why you should not be too hasty in your financial judgments. However, there is plenty of time for you to search out different information and assess the options. You've got a good financial sense, and you may be ready to make a firm, long-term decision.

'KAS officer' cons aged man right in DC's office

Senior citizen who sought more compensation for land, paid up Rs 1.7 lakh to imposters

PRAVEEN KUMAR @ Bengaluru

THE 63-year-old vice-president of the Federation of Karnataka Lorry Owners' Association, a resident of Ideal Homes in Raja Rajeshwari Nagar, was cheated inside the Deputy Commissioner's (DC) office in Ramanagara district by two unidentified miscreants.

One of the accused claimed to be a KAS officer and Assistant Commissioner. The victim, VH Rudraiah, had filed an arbitration case seeking more compensation from the government after his plot in Bidadi was acquired for NH-275, connecting Bengaluru and Bantwal. The accused called the victim, saying the case had been settled in his favour, with more compensation. He also asked the victim to be kind towards him and give him a gift in cash, for getting more compensation.

Rudraiah, who fell for the trap, went to the office and handed over Rs 1.7 lakh in cash. When the compensation amount was not transferred to his bank account, he grew suspicious and checked with the Tahsildar, only to realise he had been conned. Rudraiah filed a complaint on Saturday.

He told TNIE that he had filed an arbitration case in 2020 to claim more compensation since his land was a DC-converted plot. "On Friday, a man claiming to be Rajendra Prasad, Assistant Commissioner working in the DC's office, called me and said Rs 46.75 lakh compensation had been released, and would be transferred to my account by evening. The accused asked for Rs 1.7 lakh as a gift for his 'effort' in getting me the compensation. The call was made around 10am. As I was asked to give the amount immediately, I went to the DC's office around 11.45am and handed over the cash to a person, as told by the caller, near Room 201. The second accused was wearing a mask and did not allow me to meet the AC, claiming he was in a meeting. I was assured that the money would be in my bank account at 4.30pm. When I checked my account, there was no money," he added.

He immediately called the number of the first accused and was shocked to realise that it was switched off. He reached the DC's office the next day, and the Tahsildar told him that the said assistant commissioner had been transferred.

Knew functions of DC's office

"It appears that the accused knew how the DCs office functions, and must be a regular visitor. We've got CCTV footage of the person who received the money. Chances of the accused knowing the victim cannot be ruled out, as they were aware of his arbitration case," said an officer.

A case of cheating under Section 420 IPC was registered against the two accused.

Doctor murdered for uploading girlfriend's pictures on social media

ENS @ Bengaluru

THE Begur police have arrested three suspects in connection with the murder of a 27-year-old doctor. The victim has been identified as Dr N Vikas, a native of Chennai, residing in BTM Layout. The accused are identified as Pratheesha, Susheel and Gowtham. The police are looking for another accused, Surya.

Pratheesha is Vikas' girlfriend. She was upset with her boyfriend allegedly uploading her private pictures on social media. She had also informed her friends about it, who allegedly assaulted the victim with a floor-cleaning mop and plastic bottles. The doctor succumbed to his injuries in hospital, after being in coma for two days.

While checking Vikas' laptop on September 8, Pratheesha found that he had uploaded her private pictures on social media. Shocked, she confronted him. She also informed her friend Susheel, who called the victim to his house. Both the doctor and his girlfriend went to Susheel's house in New MICO Layout two days later, where Goutham and Surya were also present. The group questioned the victim about the pictures, and later assaulted him. "The woman claimed that she had stepped out of the house to attend a phone call. When she returned after sometime, she found Vikas lying unconscious, and informed Vikas' brother Vijay," said an officer.

Law student killed in bike crash

BENGALURU: A 20-year-old biker died after he crashed his speeding motorcycle into a parked milk tanker, and also struck a pedestrian. The incident took place at Dairy Circle on Bannerghatta Road on Sunday night. The deceased has been identified as Arsh Anwar, a law student from Banasawadi. His friend, Aryan, who was riding pillion, and the pedestrian Tulasinath (33), who is a rag picker, are critically injured. Around 8.30 pm, Anwar and Aryan borrowed a friend's bike and headed to Koramangala for dinner. Finding the road empty, Anwar began to accelerate, when he saw suddenly spotted Tulasinath crossing the road. Anwar lost control, hit Tulasinath and crashed into a milk tanker parked nearby. Both Anwar and Aryan were not wearing helmets during the accident, police said.

Realtor held for misbehaviour

BENGALURU: The High Grounds police have arrested a 37-year-old realtor for allegedly misbehaving with a woman. The accused is identified as Nagaraj D, who hails from Mysuru. The police said that Nagaraj had befriended the woman, who is also into real estate business, on social media, and had promised to help her buy property in Mysuru. The two had been talking over the phone since the last two years. Recently, he had allegedly starting forcing her to meet him, and expressed wanting to live with her. She, however, warned him to stay away. On Sunday, he came to her apartment premises and texted her that he would end his life if she refused to meet him. When she came to meet him, he started physically forcing her to sit inside his car. She raised an alarm, and someone in the public called the police.

To help friend, man murder's neighbour

BENGALURU: A man was murdered, allegedly by his neighbour. The victim has been identified as Balakrishna, a resident of 7th Cross, Yellamma Temple Street. Balakrishna and his brothers, Vinod Kumar and Venkatesh, owned some property. The accused, identified as Naveen Rao, is a friend of Venkatesh's son, also named Naveen. Rao, who stays in the opposite lane, has since been arrested. Venkatesh is no more, and his son had to take care of his mother. Accordingly, he sought the victim's share in the property. To help his friend, Rao used to force Balakrishna to transfer the share to his nephew. On Monday, during a scuffle, he allegedly attacked the victim with a cement block.

Scholar trying to save baby

NAGAVENI, who is an orphan and a heart patient, said, "We have to repay loans and also bear the cost of treatment for my heart condition. Being an orphan, I was worried about my first child. Now my second baby has been sold." Being an illiterate, she said she was scared to approach the police to file a complaint.

The incident was narrated to Deepa by Nagaveni's sister, Nandita, who is a transgender. Deepa has now collected all the required documents, including an audio clip, to expose the crime.

Deepa told The New Indian Express that Basava, who had a debt of Rs 30,000, came in contact with a person, who arranged the newborn to be handed over to a couple. The baby was then 10 days old. When Nagaveni sought the baby back, Basava assaulted her badly, Deepa said.

"I told Basava about the legal implications of his criminal act and asked him to bring the baby back in three days. But he has not done it till now," Deepa said.

AASHA'S FAMILY WAITS FOR GOVT SUPPORT FOR PLASTIC SURGERIES

BENGALURU: Five months since the cowardly acid attack by her stalker, the ordeal of the survivor Aasha (name changed) continues, with trips to hospital at least twice a week for treatment. Aasha's family is still waiting for support from the government for her plastic surgeries. She was discharged from hospital a month ago, after four months of hospitalisation. Aasha's uncle Sundaresh told TNIE, "Her condition has improved. She is able to walk slowly within the house and eat a small quantity of normal food. Her morale is also better. She is visiting hospital twice a week for treatment. Doctors are yet to say when she can undergo plastic surgeries, and we are waiting for support from the government. We will be meeting government authorities in this regard shortly," he said. ENS

Union Minister Pralhad Joshi on Monday said that the Congress is under the illusion of returning to power at the Centre. Speaking to media persons in Mysuru, Joshi said, "People are aware of what the Congress has done to them. Elections to several states and the 2024 Lok Sabha polls will show them their place. The Congress never cared about the country and the Gandhis have only thought of their prosperity."

ED grills Shivakumar for 6 hrs in assets case

Political vendetta, harassment the price I am paying for speaking up for people of Karnataka, says Congress leader

BALA CHAUHAN @ Bengaluru

KARNATAKA Pradesh Congress Committee (KPCC) President DK Shivakumar on Monday appeared before the Directorate of Enforcement (ED) in New Delhi, after he was summoned last week to depose before the agency in an alleged disproportionate assets (DA) case, registered by the Central Bureau of Investigation (CBI). The KPCC President, who had arrived at the ED office around 1pm, was questioned till late evening. Shivakumar was out of the ED office at 7pm.

In March 2020, the CBI had registered a Preliminary Enquiry case against Shivakumar and other individuals for amassing assets worth Rs 74.93 crore, which the agency alleged were in his and his family members' names, and were disproportionate to their known sources of income. The CBI had conducted raids at 14 locations -- nine in Karnataka, four in Delhi and one in Mumbai – which were reportedly linked to Shivakumar and his brother and Congress MP DK Suresh, and allegedly recovered around Rs 57 lakh in cash during the searches.

The Congress leader, however, had contested the agency's claim on the amount recovered from his residence. Shivakumar had appeared before the CBI in November 2020, and a second time in January 2021, to provide details in the DA case.

KPCC chief DK Shivakumar arrives at the Enforcement Directorate (ED) office in New Delhi, Monday

Shivakumar is facing a slew of cases by the Income Tax (I-T) Department and ED, in connection with alleged disproportionate assets. He was arrested on September 3, 2019, under the Prevention of Money Laundering Act (PMLA). The Delhi High Court had granted him bail on October 23, 2019.

On Monday evening, he tweeted that he has "faith" in the judicial system. "One day, I will be proven innocent of all charges. Political vendetta and harassment is the price I am paying for speaking up for the people of Karnataka on issues such as unemployment and price rise."

Last month, CBI had summoned KPCC secretary and Shivakumar's close aide Vijay Mulgund for questioning in the DA case.

Shivakumar had questioned the timing of the ED summons, with the Congress holding its ambitious 3,570-km 'Bharat Jodo Yatra' and the Assembly session in Karnataka going on. The Bharat Jodo Yatra is led by Congress MP Rahul Gandhi, who is currently in Kerala. The march will enter Karnataka on October 1.

CABINET DECIDES TO TABLE WAKF LAND SCAM REPORT

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ Bengaluru

TO dent the opposition onslaught over corruption, the cabinet on Monday decided to table the wakf land encroachment report that was submitted to the government in 2012 by the Minority Commission Chairman Anwar Manipady.

In his report, Manipady had pointed out that 29,000 acres of wakf land worth nearly Rs 2.3 lakh crore had been encroached by politicians over the past few decades and successive governments chose to remain mum over the issue. He had also named 12 politicians from the minority community, many of whom from Congress. The cabinet also gave the administrative approval to extend the Vidya Nidhi scheme, which supports children of farmers, to the children of fishermen too.

This had been the demand of Mogaveeras, who are a fishermen community along the coast and are the main support base of BJP.

The cabinet also okayed a proposal to provide SC/STs, coming under the BPL bracket, free 75 units of power per month. The government had decided on the freebie in May, but took it up before the cabinet on Monday.

The cabinet approved the withdrawal of nearly 35 cases against pro-Kannada and pro-farmer protesters in different police stations. It is said that the home department has looked into these cases thoroughly. All small and medium coffee growers will get free power to run their irrigation pumpsets of up to 10 HP, which was a long-standing demand. The decision will help farmers in Kodagu, Chikkamagaluru, Hassan, Uttara Kannada and Shivamogga districts.

The cabinet decided to set up a cancer care centre on the Belagavi Health campus at Rs 50 crore. The maintenance and repair work of the pumping station at Harohalli Cauvery Stage 4 Phase 2 will be taken up at a cost of Rs 33.85 crore, considering that the equipment was submerged during the recent floods.

Crops on 8.9L ha damaged in rain

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ Bengaluru

HEAVY rains lashing Karnataka for the last few months have filled up lakes and reservoirs recharging groundwater, Revenue Minister R Ashoka told the Assembly on Monday.

On the flip side, Ashoka said crops on 8.91 lakh hectares have been damaged in the rains and floods, which also resulted in loss of human lives and caused damage to infrastructure.

Ashoka said that Karnataka this year received the highest rain in 50 years, setting a record. "Karnataka saw heavy rains in July... two heavy spells in August and the first week of September. Most of the reservoirs are full. Of the total capacity of 865 tmcft, we have 790 tmcft of water in the reservoirs," he said. He pointed out that from June to September this year, Karnataka has released 425 tmcft of water to Tamil Nadu, which is the highest ever.

"Comparison between August 2012 and August 2022 shows that groundwater level has increased from 2m to 4m at various places," he added.

Speaking on the loss, Ashoka said crops on 8.91 lakh hectares have been damaged and 127 people have died in rain-related incidents in the state. "Also, 1289 animals have died. This apart, 45,465 houses, 2,325 bridges, 8,627 classrooms, 269 primary health centres and 5,194 anganwadi centres have been damaged," he added.

He also said 33,475 electricity poles and 3,508 transformers have been damaged.

"The central team visited Karnataka recently to assess the damages and are convinced. We are also paying compensation," he added.

He said task forces have been constituted at gram panchayat level. "The Centre has appreciated this initiative. The same model is expected to be implemented in other states," he added.

It will take quarter of a century for Escoms to clear their ₹38,973cr loan

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ Bengaluru

THE state-owned electricity supply companies (Escoms), including Bangalore Electricity Company Ltd (Bescom), have loans of whooping Rs 38,973 crore and it would take nearly 25 years to clear it completely.

Energy Minister V Sunil Kumar on Monday informed the Council that the loans were taken from 2002 onwards for investing in power projects as well as for power purchase. Bescom alone has a loan of Rs 13,613 crore. As per the projected debt servicing up to 2047-48, it will pay Rs 807 crore towards the principal and Rs 753 crore towards the interest in the current year.

The minister said every year the department spends around Rs 33,000 crore on power purchases. The power purchase agreements (PPA) were entered into depending on the requirements at different times. There were variations in the price, the minister said and added that he is ready to explain the loss to the state exchequer (due to variations in the price at which power was purchased).

Sunil Kumar said the extent of the loan taken by Escoms will be decided after placing all the proposals before the Karnataka Electricity Regulatory Commission (KERC).

Responding to BJP MLC Bharati Shetty's question, Sunil Kumar said every year around Rs 13,000 crore is utilised for providing subsidies to irrigation pump (IP) sets and another Rs 600- 700 crore goes towards Bhagya Jyothi and other schemes. The subsidy is provided to 38 lakh IP sets. Of them, 6,30,000 were added in the last two years.

He said they have taken several initiatives for ensuring fiscal discipline in Escoms, including directing the officials to collect pending bills, identify and take action against power theft, getting 50% equity funds from the government for the projects and implementing the state and central government-funded projects on priority.

Meanwhile, Sunil Kumar said he will direct the officials to look into any discrepancies in underground cable works in Bengaluru.

A heated argument ensues between Opposition and Treasury benches in the Assembly on Monday | EXPRESS

'Wanted all 26,000 workers to be included'

THERE was a demand for the inclusion of 26,000 pourakarmikas which include sweepers. The government said this is the first instalment and the remaining 12,800 pourakarmikas will be accommodated soon.

But Clifton Rozario, who is a member of the Pourakarmika Committee told The New Indian Express, "We wanted all the 26,000 to be included. There are also 24,000 others who are categorised as loaders, drivers and cleaners who also need to be accommodated. This cannot be done on a piecemeal basis."

A senior minister, however said, "There are financial compulsions and hence we could not do it in one go. We have to wait for the inclusion of the remaining 12,800."

It may be recalled that around 50,000 pourakarmikas had gone on a strike about three months ago seeking regularisation of their services and the state government had in principle agreed to their demand and a committee had been set up.

Bill tabled to create eight new universities

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ Bengaluru

THE state government on Monday tabled the Karnataka State Universities (amendment) Bill in the Assembly to create new universities in respective district head quarters.

If it becomes an Act, Bidar, Haveri, Kodagu, Chamarajanagar, Hassan, Koppal, Mandya and Bagalkot universities will be set up at an approximate cost of Rs 14 crores with an annual expenditure of Rs 2 per university.

Any privilege enjoyed from the Gulbarga University by colleges and educational institutions in Bidar district before the amendment Act will be deemed withdrawn. All educational institutions affiliated to Gulbarga University will be affiliated to Bidar University.

Industrial disputes Bill withdrawn

The government on Monday withdrew the Karnataka Industrial Disputes (Karnataka Amendment) Bill, 2020 in the Assembly. "We decided to withdraw the law which we introduced seven months ago after the Centre introduced four labour laws by clubbing 29 codes. There is no need for two laws on one issue," Labour Minister Arabail Shivaram Hebbar told The New Indian Express.

Two amendment Bills cleared in Council

The Karnataka Protection of Interest of Depositors in Financial Establishments (Amendment) Bill, 2022 and the Karnataka Land Revenue (Amendment) Bill, 2022 were passed in the Council, on Monday.

After Cong allegation, woman PSI suspended

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ Mysuru

AFTER KPCC spokesman M Lakshman exposed that a woman PSI had assured a job aspirant an FDA post, the city police commissioner issued a suspension order pending inquiry.

Two days ago, Lakshman released a clip of a conversation allegedly between NR traffic police PSI Ashwini Ananthapura and job aspirant Sangamesh Jalaki, in which the police officer is heard assuring the aspirant the job in exchange for money. Lakshman had also released the WhatsApp chat history, bank transaction details. Police Commissioner Dr Chandragupta, issuing the suspension order, has asked Ashwini not to leave the headquarters.

Meanwhile, the Opposition in the Council demanded to allow discussion on the PSI recruitment scam on Monday. However, Minister for Law and Parliamentary Affairs J C Madhu Swamy, said it can't be allowed as the matter is subjudice.

JDS MLC KA Thippeswamy proposed to move an adjournment motion on the issue but the protem Chairman Raghunath Rao Malkapure asked him to give notice on the same. Meanwhile, Madhu Swamy intervened and said no adjournment motion can be allowed on the issue as it is not a recent occurrence. He also said that the House can not discuss matters that are under adjudication.

Opposition leader BK Hariprasad said the government had claimed there is no scam at all but an officer of the rank of ADGP is arrested in the case.

Quota: Panchamasalis to protest before CM's Shiggaon house today

BANSY KALAPPA @ Bengaluru

IN a show of aggression, Panchamasali community members will protest outside Chief Minister Basavaraj Bommai's family house in his constituency Shiggaon of Haveri district at 9 am on Tuesday, seeking reservation.

Panchamsali Mutt pontiff Basava Jaya Mrutyunjaya told The New Indian Express that there is no going back on the reservation demand and that a lakh Panchamsalis will gather at the Kittur Rani Chennamma Circle and march to Bommai's residence to sit in a protest outside the house till 4 pm. They are holding the protest as the two-month deadline given by the state government expires on Tuesday. Panchamsalis have been seeking 2 A reservation which is accorded to extremely backward communities.

Political leaders, MLA Basanagouda Patil Yatnal, AB Patil, Prakash Hukkeri, Vijayanand Kashappanavar and others, will join the protest, the seer said.

Panchamsalis, who number over 50 lakh, are the single-largest influential group in the Lingayat community and are a deciding factor in around 80 constituencies. In Shiggaon, there are around 60,000 Panchamasalis and without their support, Bommai will find it difficult to win.

Last year, Panchamasalis marched from Kudalasangama to Bengaluru that culminated in a rally at Palace Grounds where about 15 lakh community members participated.

Panchamsalis are not pleased that the government has made no effort to accord them the reservation and is only giving them assurances. Though they have been protesting for the last two years, there is discomfort among BJP leaders as the election nears, and the latter hope that this anger would not affect the prospects of the party in the 2023 and 2024 elections. Nearly 80 per cent of Panchamasalis had supported BJP in previous elections.

'BHAGAVAD GITA NOT PART OF TEXTBOOKS THIS YEAR'

Bengaluru: School Education and Literacy Minister BC Nagesh on Monday informed the Council that the Bhagavad Gita will not be part of the school textbooks in the current year. "But will be included in moral education classes from December," he said responding to a question by BJP MLC MK Pranesh. Nagesh said a committee will be formed soon to finalise the content. The minister, however, said it will be included in the textbooks in future. "No one will oppose if the government includes Bhagavad Gita in textbooks," the MLC said. Nagesh said changes have been made in the textbooks to give correct facts about history to students and they will continue to do so.

'830 TONNES OF PLASTIC WASTE GENERATED EACH DAY'

Bengaluru: Minister for Social Welfare Department and Backward Classes Kota Srinivas Poojary on Monday informed the Council that every day 830.36 tonnes of plastic waste is generated in urban local bodies, including Bengaluru. Poojary was responding to MLC Muniraju Gowda and Prakash Rathod's question. In Bengaluru Urban, 317.42 tonnes of plastic waste is generated every day. The authorities have conducted 9,439 raids and booked 21 cases from April 2021 to March 2022. Rathod said plastic waste in Karnataka is around 3 lakh tonnes every day and not 830 tonnes as claimed by the government.

Doctors will be appointed on contract basis. Sudhakar also said the process is on to appoint doctors for primary health centres.

'WILL FILE DEFAMATION CASE OVER 40% COMMISSION CHARGES'

Bengaluru: Horticulture Minister N Munirathna has said he will file a defamation complaint against Contractors Association chief Kempanna and seek damages to the tune of Rs 50 crore. He claimed that the '40% commission' allegations made by Kempanna are false. He said if the association does not apologise to him within seven days, he will not hesitate to launch legal proceedings against them.

LEGISLATORS ASK QUESTIONS, BUT SKIP SESSION

Bengaluru: For the first time, most of the legislators, including Leader of Opposition Siddaramaiah, who had raised issues during the question and zero hours were absent at the Assembly on Monday. Speaker Vishveshwar Hegde Kageri expressed his displeasure and said absentees are from all parties. When the session resumed on Monday morning, the House had very few members. At 11 am, when Kageri started calling the names of the legislators who had asked star questions, most of them were absent. Normally, the first one hour is allotted for question hour, followed by 30 minutes for zero hour. During the question hour, for the 15 queries, only six members were present. Speaker called out the names again the second time, but the members were absent. "I don't know why members don't come to the House when their questions come up. This is not accepted," he said.

Leadership row: EPS to meet Shah

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@Chennai

AMID the intra-party tussle within the AIADMK, the party's interim general secretary Edappadi K Palaniswami has rushed to New Delhi on Monday night, accompanied by former Ministers CV Shanmugam and SP Velumani.

A source told TNIE that the team led by Palaniswami will be meeting Union Home Minister Amit Shah. Depending on the situation, Palaniswami is likely to return to Chennai in a day or extend his stay for one or two days.

During his visit to New Delhi on July 24 to take part in the farewell ceremony of former President Ram Nath Kovind, he could not have a face-to-face meeting with Prime Minister Narendra Modi or any other leaders from the party's top brass. When Modi visited Chennai to inaugurate the Chess Olympiad, Palaniswami could only meet him briefly at the airport.

Ahead of the 2021 Assembly elections, there were speculations that Shah had advised Palaniswami to take along VK Sasikala and TTV Dhinakaran's AMMK to ensure that the party wins, but Palaniswami had reportedly refused to take the strategy seriously.

With the single leadership issue has resulted in a fragmented AIADMK with two camps. Most of the party functionaries are with Palaniswami, but a section of office-bearers are supporting Panneerselvam. The petitions filed by them are pending decision in the Madras High Court and the Supreme Court.

Dhinakaran has been supporting Panneerselvam's call for uniting the party, while vehemently opposing Palaniswami.

STUDENTS SHIFTED TO NEARBY SCHOOL, WATER DRAINED OUT

BENGALURU: Ramanagara Deputy Commissioner Avinash Menon Rajendran and other officials visited Government Upgraded Higher Primary School in Thattekere, Channapatna town on Monday, and have taken measures to drain out water from the school premises. On Monday, TNIE had reported "School submerged, students study in temple" where the plight of the students and teachers was highlighted. More than 60 students were left with no option but to attend classes at a nearby temple. Reacting to TNIE report, District in-charge Minister Dr Ashwath Narayan tweeted, "CEO of Zilla Panchayat Ramanagara and DC of Ramanagara visited the spot. They informed me that necessary arrangement for temporary shifting to a nearby school is done. De-watering is also being done. Construction of a new and safe building for the school is planned." Sources said that water has reduced, and the personnel will come back on Tuesday. The height of the premises will be raised to avoid waterlogging. Students have been told to attend the nearest school for the next five days. "During Dasara vacation, the old school will be repaired," sources said.

Pillion kills man with lethal injection

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Khammam

WHEN 52-year-old farmer Shaikh Jamal Saheb agreed to give a lift to a stranger, he could barely imagine that his pillion would administer a poisonous injection near Vallabhi village in Mudigonda mandal of Khammam district on Monday. The unidentified person fled the spot on Jamal's two-wheeler.

Jamal was travelling from his village Bopparam to Gundrai in Andhra Pradesh on a bike, and upon reaching Vallabhi village, a person requested a lift saying his vehicle has run out of fuel. He climbed behind Jamal, and then suddenly came the lethal injection.

He could only ride 200m when he began experiencing body pain, and stopped. He pleaded for help from farmers who were working in a nearby field, and collapsed. They took him to a hospital, where he was declared brought dead. A case of an unnatural death has been filed. Khammam Rural ACP G Basva Reddy said, "A syringe has been recovered from the spot. It's yet to be confirmed if it was used on Jamal."

CET repeaters: HC asks K'taka to find solution

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@Bengaluru

THE Karnataka High Court on Monday asked the state government to find a solution to the situation that has arisen after a single judge ordered quashing of the CET rank list and redoing the ranking (50:50) for undergraduate technical courses for the academic year 2022-23.

A division bench of acting Chief Justice Alok Aradhe and Justice S Vishwajith Shetty passed the order after hearing the appeals filed by the state government and KEA against the single judge order. The court adjourned further hearing to September 22.

IN THE HC

While quashing a 'note' issued by KEA, stating that the PU II marks obtained by CET repeaters, who are the petitioners, will not be considered for CET ranking for 2022-23, the single judge had directed KEA to redo the CET ranking for admissions.

The redo has to be done strictly in accordance with Rule 3 and 4 of the Karnataka Selection of Candidates for Admission to Government Seats in Professional Education Institutions Rules 2006, without reference to the proviso to Rule 4 inserted in the government order dated September 1, 2021, bearing in mind the observations made in this order, the single judge had said. The petitioner students, who were before the single judge, did not appear for the PU II exam in 2021 as it was cancelled due to Covid and were promoted.

The government issued a notification on September 1, 2021, amending Rule 4 by inserting a proviso, which stated that merit should be determined by considering the marks obtained only in the CET 2021-22. On July 30, 2022, the KEA released the CET results and rankings. On the same day, KEA also issued a 'note' stating second PUC marks obtained by the petitioners-CET repeaters in 2021 will not be considered for ranking for 2022-23.

Metro Man: Siddu had okayed Kerala proposals

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ Kochi

A DAY after Kerala Chief Minister Pinarayi Vijayan's Karnataka counterpart Basavaraj Bommai rejected three railway proposals, 'Metro Man' E Sreedharan said that the Nilambur-Nanjangud Railway line was cleared by the Railway Ministry and Karnataka government.

Slamming the Kerala government for failing to point out that the project was earlier approved by Karnataka government, he said the state government sabotaged this project to push Vijayan's favourite Thalassery-Mysore line, which is "unviable". "Has the CM pointed out to Karnataka CM that the Nilambur-Nanjangud railway line reduces the rail distance from Kochi to Mysuru by 348 km and from Kochi to Bengaluru by 72 km, and that it has already been cleared by Karnataka government?" he said.

"Nilambur-Nanjangud Railway line was cleared by the Railway Ministry. The then UDF government had released Rs 2 crore for Delhi Metro Rail Corporation. The LDF government stopped DMRC from going ahead," he said. He recalled he had held discussions with the Karnataka chief conservator of forests, and chief wildlife warden, and permission was granted. "I personally met the then CM Siddaramaiah, who agreed to the project. Later, the Karnataka government had confirmed this," he said.

IOA MUST RISE ABOVE PERSONAL AMBITIONS TO SAFEGUARD SPORT

All eyes will be on the International Olympic Committee headquarters in Lausanne two days before the National Games in Gujarat. An Indian Olympic Association delegation is meeting the committee officials on September 27 to find a way out of the administrative mess it has got itself into. For the record, the IOC has issued a final warning that if IOA doesn't hold its election under its existing constitution and per the Olympic Charter before the next IOC Executive Board meeting in December, it will face suspension. The IOC took this decision during its EB meeting on September 8 and sent a strongly-worded letter, something the IOA cannot ignore. However, members are still fighting among themselves instead of finding a solution.

The IOA is torn between two factions. One is led by its secretary general Rajeev Mehta and the other by Adille Sumariwalla after former president Narinder Batra was forced to leave. To complicate matters, the IOC has refused to acknowledge the Mehta faction's Anil Khanna as the acting president. Still, he continues in office, saying the Delhi High Court had asked him to. The IOA has not held its executive committee meeting as demanded by a majority of its members. The Mehta faction says the EC ceased to exist after its tenure ended on December 14 last year, while the IOC has insisted that the EC is still in place. Resolving issues amidst contrasting views is not easy. Even now, there is an exchange of letters without consensus between the two parties.

There is another issue that is waiting to flare up. If the election process starts, who would draw up the electoral college? Both factions had a bitter fight last year over it, and the matter eventually landed in court. It's close to 10 months now since the IOA election matter was dragged to the Delhi High Court, yet there seems to be no amicable solution as directed by the IOC. Instead, it has now reached the Supreme Court. The members seem more interested in holding on to their posts than considering sports' overall development. The interests of sports and athletes should be paramount and non-negotiable. If the IOC bans IOA, athletes will suffer as their participation will be in danger. They will not be able to compete under the national flag. All IOA members must rise above their ambitions and interests and think beyond crony politics.

ACCESS TO ALL IS KEY MEASURE OF SUCCESS

Close to a century after the Madras Corporation initiated a school meal programme under the Justice Party, the Tamil Nadu government inaugurated a scheme to provide free breakfasts to primary school children in the state. The scheme, piloted in 15 districts at ₹33.56 crore, will serve 1.14 lakh children in 1,545 government schools. Launching the programme, Chief Minister M K Stalin stressed that the scheme should not be considered a "freebie" or a concession but the duty and responsibility of the government. Invoking the pioneers of the Dravidian movement, Stalin said it was their vision that there should be no barrier to access to education, including poverty or caste.

Tamil Nadu's success in the midday meal scheme—adopted nationally— is well-known, and its approach towards welfare, regardless of which Dravidian major has been in power, has become central both to its development as well as the political debate on 'freebies'. It is the case of the DMK that so-called freebies are investments in the people that may have far-reaching effects. For instance, the free breakfast scheme not only ensures better nutritional intake in young children and better school performance on a full stomach but also eases the pressures on family expenditure and women's labour. Another example is the impact the scheme offering free bus travel for women has had in less than a year— more women have been able to leave homes for work and earn or save for their families.

This is not to say the administration of welfare schemes is flawless or without critique. Midday meal workers have recently flagged the need to increase allocations to keep up with inflation, especially regarding the cost of gas cylinders and vegetables. Workers have also questioned why the breakfast scheme has been handed over to SHGs or contractors for centralised cooking rather than adopting the decentralised, community-based approach of the midday meals. Similarly, about the bus scheme, women have faced friction between bus conductors and drivers who stand to lose out on meeting their collection targets. The devil lies in the details.

These are the gaps that the state must also focus on filling to ensure that every eligible resident can access TN's welfare schemes and services seamlessly, without struggle, graft or delay.

QUICK TAKE

ORGANISE DOMESTIC LABOUR

Assam moots law to hold people hiring young domestic help accountable for the latter's education and health. A well-meaning step, but given its national resonance, it cannot be a de-federalised effort. Protecting them is integral to national labour reforms to provide economic and safety nets that millions of domestic workers in India have never enjoyed. They make up the bottom of the unorganised labour pyramid, without sane work hours, wages, dignity and personal safety. Such a sizeable unskilled force cannot be left ungoverned outside labour laws. A national scheme to register them and offer minimum wages is the first step.

How can the Centre justify its tax concessions to the rich while running a continuous revenue deficit?

FISCAL FEDERALISM AND HULLABALOO AROUND FREEBIES

DR T M THOMAS ISAAC

Former finance minister of Kerala

SOURAV ROY

The Union government has opened yet another battlefront with the state governments. The states are supposed to be steeped in "revdi culture" and distributing too many freebies risking financial stability. The Supreme Court of India has taken cognisance of the issue and is setting up a commission. A roaring debate is going on in the media. But, to my surprise, everyone seems to have ignored that the existing FRBM Act already sets stringent fiscal limits on the freebies that a government can distribute.

Freebies, however one may define them, are a part of the revenue expenditure. A key provision of the FRBM Act is that the revenue deficit must be eliminated, which means no borrowed money can be used for revenue expenditure, including freebies. On average, expenditure on salaries, pensions, and interest constitutes 50–55% of the total revenue expenditure of the states. After other committed expenditures on social and economic development, the residual available for freebies would be very limited unless governments flout the condition of zero revenue deficit.

The key question is this: who has been performing in a fiscally responsible manner—the states or the Union? In 2000–01, the combined revenue deficit of the Union and states had reached a dangerous level of 6.45% of GDP, the Union's deficit being 3.91% and the states' being 2.54%. After the FRBM acts, the deficit ratio tended to come down, and in 2010–11, the combined deficit was 3.20%, which was entirely the Union government's contribution. In 2010–11, the Union government's revenue deficit was 3.24%, while the state governments had a revenue surplus of -0.4%.

Since then, the average revenue deficit of the states has been negligible until Covid-19 at 0.05%, while that of the Union government hovered around 3.15%. The lesson that can be drawn from these simple figures is that the states, on the whole, have been fiscally responsible while the Union government has behaved imprudently. This asymmetry between the Union and the states is even sharper for the fiscal deficit. Therefore, the prime minister should do more introspection on his government's performance rather than exhorting the states about the danger of excessive freebies.

How can the Union government justify its corporate and other tax concessions to the rich while running a continuous revenue deficit? Every year, the direct taxes totalling more than a lakh rupees are forgone as disclosed in the annexures to the annual budget. Besides, in 2019, the Union government reduced the corporate tax from 30% to 22% on the eve of the prime minister's visit to the US, just to create a hurrah in the stock market and, perhaps, under the impression that such a gesture would please the tax-cut philosophy of Trump and Co.

The current GST rates on consumer durables are 30–50% lower than the burden of taxes subsumed under GST. Such instances of freebies by the Union government to the rich can be multiplied. Interestingly, the Tamil Nadu government's submission to the Supreme Court, among other points, had raised the issue of loan waivers to corporates. They pointed out that in the first three years of the Modi government, ₹75,000 crores of non-performing debts of the Adani group had been written off. Since the NDA government assumed office, more than ₹10 lakh crores of total non-performing assets of banks, mostly of the corporates, have been written off. The asset restructuring companies have so far been able to recover less than ₹2 lakh crores of bad debts. Is this not a corporate freebie, or do only loan waivers of farmers qualify to be freebies? And what about the Production Linked Incentive Scheme (PLI) for large-scale electronics manufacturing, which is under consideration to be extended to other manufacturing sectors?

The high revenue deficit implies that a significant portion of the borrowed funds is being used by the Union government to finance revenue expenditure that does not create any assets. Therefore, it is the Union government that is burdening the future generations, the very sin that the Union finance minister warned the states about. While the states have complied with the FRBM norm of 3% fiscal deficit, the Central government tended to have a ratio ranging between 4–5%, despite heavy window dressing.

India is one of the countries with the worst inequality in the distribution of income and wealth. The share of the richest 1% in national wealth has increased from 16.1% in 1990 to 42.5% in 2020. In contrast, the share of the poorest 50% declined from 8.8% to 2.8% during the same period. In terms of income distribution, too, inequality has been widening. While the share of the richest 1% increased from 10.4% in 1990 to 21.7% in 2020, the share of the bottom 50% declined from 22% to 14.7%.

In the background of acceleration of inequality, the obsession that the prime minister is exhibiting with freebies is perverse. The discourse of some pundits on appropriate and efficient support systems for the poor—also in the context of the freebie debate—would qualify to be in the same perversity brand.

Even the Supreme Court, sympathetic to restricting freebies, while hearing a petition by BJP leader and advocate Ashwini Upadhyay seeking to prevent political parties from promising freebies to the electorate before elections, was forced to ask: "Can universal healthcare, access to drinking water, and access to consumer electronics be treated as freebies?" The BJP leader had also characterised MGNREGA to be a freebie. All of these point to the inherent difficulties in arriving at an operational definition of a freebie. It is a political choice that cannot be bound by rule-based governance.

What provoked the prime minister's 'revdi culture' speech seems to be the Aam Aadmi Party upstaging the BJP in poll promises in the forthcoming Gujarat elections. It is no more a secret how the BJP massively used Mudra Loans and Centrally Sponsored Schemes to canvas votes in UP. If the BJP feels that the AAP's freebies are going to thwart development, take it to the people and make it a poll issue. And the Supreme Court should not abrogate to itself the functions of the legislature or the political choice of the electorate.

More important and vital issues corrupting the election process in India—like the electoral bonds—require more urgent attention than freebies. The entire episode is bizarre.

THE CONGRESS RAHUL WALKS AWAY FROM

C P SURENDRAN

Poet, novelist, and screenplay writer. His latest novel is One Love and the Many Lives of Osip B

Soon after Ramakrishna Paramahamsa died in 1886, Vivekananda (then Narendranath Datta) began his Indian travels by rail, bullock cart, and foot. His travels lasted five years. Toward the end of 1892, when at Kanyakumari, he had a vision of 'One India'. From his pronouncements, it is the same vision (Bharat Jodo) that drives Rahul Gandhi 130 years later as he launched his march from Kanniyakumari. He has been on his feet for over ten days; walking is a tradition in India pioneered by Buddha, Adi Shankara, Vivekananda, and Mahatma Gandhi. It's a kind of meditation. You cease to be; you become the others you observe.

Rahul Gandhi is not an ascetic. If at all, he is the monk with the Burberry. But all day, he walks, a kind of Forrest Gump of Indian politics, a Lal Singh Chaddha among Indian politicians: he is different. Even perhaps a maverick. Who else would tear up his own prime minister's ordinance in full public view? Remember the ordinance that Manmohan Singh came out with in 2013 that sought to protect convicted politicians? His party and the BJP put that act of acrimony and defiance down to Rahul's immaturity. Perhaps it was. But it was also in keeping with his eccentricity of character, his natural and almost compulsive need not to play ball.

The general naivety ('Pappu') associated with Rahul was reinforced by Arnab Goswami's interview in 2014, where his trusting nature led to his virtual slaughter. Nassim Taleb talks about the delusion of the naive well-fed turkey. The bird is taken care of for 1000 days. It is fat and happy. It believes the world is a lovely place. On the 1001st day, it's killed and is dinner. The Times Now interview taught Rahul Gandhi he is not universally liked, contrary to what he was brought up to believe in the great and elite household of the Nehrus.

From there through 2016, when in Lok Sabha, when the oratorically gifted Prime Minister Narendra Modi famously painted Rahul in the colours of a clown, to the loss of his traditional Amethi seat in the 2019 elections, and the general condemnation of his senior compatriots in the Congress Party, by his admission, it has been a 'rough ride' for Rahul Gandhi.

But it has been a ride also where he has never stopped being quite human. In a 2018 meeting in Singapore, he said he had "completely forgiven his father's killers". He went on to say: "I remember when I saw Mr Prabhakaran (LTTE chief) on TV lying dead, I had two feelings: one was why are they humiliating this man in this way, and the second was, I felt really bad for him and for his kids."

This Gandhian aspect of Rahul's personality keeps him still a potent force in a world that is pretty quick to seek vengeance for the slightest wrong. And, again, it is this trait that is on display in the idea of the long walk from Kanniyakumari to Kashmir, a distance of some 3,500 kilometres, which he plans to cover in five months. An exercise that Rahul Gandhi hopes will help him in his 'Discovery of India'—the name of the book that his great-grandfather wrote in Ahmednagar jail between 1942 and 1945.

> Rahul Gandhi is not an ascetic. If at all, he is the monk with the Burberry. But all day, he walks, a kind of Forrest Gump of Indian politics, a Lal Singh Chaddha among Indian politicians: he is different. Who else would tear up his own prime minister's ordinance in full public view?

This is not just an innocent journey, one in which Rahul Gandhi would just heal divisive society just by walking and talking. The fact is structurally and organisationally, the Congress is an exhausted political force. It is not reasonable to expect a party used to the custom of being steered by a small group of Delhi-resident politicians—and their intellectual retinue, generational accomplices used to the comforts of a certain legacy—privileged, whether they are in power or not, to withstand the BJP.

A BJP that has, with great will and sustained ingenuity, tapped into the chimerical racial and religious subconscious of Hindu India so well that we have begun to look for our future in our past: once we were golden; now we are leaden.

The current woke fashion of victimhood externalises the individual's inadequacy primarily as another's fault. What the BJP is doing convincingly is that India's low performance—victimhood en masse—across all sectors for centuries could be blamed on Mughals, colonial powers, and the Congress. The last for the BJP is just another face of the British, a substitute. Therefore, as a people, Indians are not at fault. The BJP has helped India to externalise her inadequacy. A reason has been found; now we can, the BJP says, address the question and find an answer. And that answer is in the past. Invariably, it will lead us to the purity question of race and religion. The BJP is woke in reverse. And it is working in this Age of Victimhood.

The Congress, with just 53 MPs out of 543, has no idea how to fight the BJP. The righteous outrage of the Liberals is just that. It does not help. The Delhi-centric cabal that used to run the party is still talking about 'baithaks'. They talk of party elections and inner-party democracy. There was never such speaking when Indira Gandhi or even Nehru was in power. There were just the motions.

The truth is that the Congress worked on charisma and direct connection with the masses. It is not easy to attribute to Rahul Gandhi a hypnotic personality. But he can try to build a direct connection with the people, going over the heads of the other leaders of the Congress. Circumventing, in fact, the traditional course available to a political party. This is what he is doing.

By hitting the road, Rahul Gandhi is not just trying to break the spell that the BJP has cast over India. He is also challenging the way the Congress has come to function. Instead of the sitting-down culture of his party, he has chosen to walk out into the great outdoors; walk away from conference halls and well-fed, familiar faces. When you walk, you leave things behind. And if someone wants to keep up, he/she must follow him. Rahul Gandhi is finally saying with his feet that he wants to lead.

Not so 'cooperative' after all

Apropos of Vedanta and the missing spirit of federalism (Sept 19). This reminds me of when the Anglo-American consortium was going to set up a steel plant in Visakhapatnam. The youth were initially jubilant, but PM Indira Gandhi went back on the Centre's word, fuelling protests in the port city. But a few years later, she gave her assent to the Salem Steel Plant in Tamil Nadu! The Vedanta incident rings a bell. This is a country which repeats the cooperative federalism slogan at its convenience.

8 cheetahs, countless credit

The Centre's attempt to take credit for releasing eight cheetahs into the wild after getting them from Namibia is not gracious. They should have acknowledged that the Congress begun the initiative in 2009—maybe that would have started a new chapter in Indian politics where cooperation and support would outshine petty fights.
S V Venkatakrishnan, Bengaluru

Cheetahs are finally safe

Apropos Cheetahs arrive in style (Sept 18). After going extinct in 1952 due to the hunting escapades of the rajas and the elite, the cheetahs are finally back! They will no doubt enrich the wildlife in Kuno National Park. They are safer than they were in Namibia.
K V Raghuram, Wayanad

RaGa as party president

After Rajasthan, Chhattisgarh Congress also wants Rahul Gandhi to become the party president. This clearly shows how senior leaders are trying their best to stall the change of guard. And if this wish comes true, the BJP has more to harp on and Modi will get a third term on a silver platter.
N Nagarajan, email

Congress' recipe for disaster

The Congress chorus for Rahul Gandhi to become party president is a window into the party's functioning. The coterie that revolves around Sonia Gandhi is filled with those who do not have a strong base in their respective states. With an eye on personal benefits, the family and their circle are damaging the country's democratic health in the long run.

Antibiotic abuse

Apropos of the well-written quick take, Avoid antibiotic abuse (Sept 19). The damage that antibiotics caused during Covid-19 is known to all. It will have a lasting and considerable impact on readers, who would then discuss it with their families. People should take the warning very seriously and eschew the use of antibiotics sans medical intervention.

Criticism against Central Vista project motivated: Hardeep Puri

UNION Minister for Housing and Urban Affairs Hardeep Singh Puri spoke to Preetha Nair about the significance of the Central Vista Project and the controversies surrounding it. Excerpts from aninterview:

The revamped Central Vista avenue between India Gate and Rashtrapati Bhavan was inaugurated recently. Many describe it as a rewriting of history. Why so?
The project is unique; it is a transformative infrastructure project. It is redesigning the artery of governance to make it fit for purpose, and aesthetically reflect India not as encapsulated by the 190 years of our colonial experience. Those who exercised political power as colonial dispensation obviously designed that architecture for governance in their own image for their own purposes. So why is it any surprise that it was called Kingsway? In 1947, it was called Rajpath. Raj means colonial power. A colonial mindset was being created. Today, we are 75 years old and as an independent country. When we see the first physical segment of that transformative project take shape, the acceptance of it has been overwhelming. The turnout, for instance, is 150,000 on a weekend or 100,000 or other days.

The name change from Rajpath to Kartavya Path has invited criticism. Can we shed the colonial past just by changing names?
By changing the name, we are giving out a message that when India turns 100 years in 2047, she will be very proud. I spent 29 years in foreign service and I have seen the countries that have done well have the capacity to respect their cultural heritage, their history, and yet define their own individuality. We are not doing it in order to erase the colonial past. It's a process under transformation. But there are aspirations for the original us, which has been reclaimed now. This is an interesting lesson in post-colonial society and a beautiful summation of the new India. Kartavya Path, new defence enclaves and executive enclaves are not built for tomorrow and the day after. This was built 100 years ago. There is a need for continuity, preservation, and adaptability.

Today, the pedestrian sideways along Kartavya Path are more robust. We've added 16 new bridges, refurbishing and reinforcing the water bodies. Canals have been fitted with necessary infrastructure like aerators. We have replanted 101 acres of grass. Not a single tree has been removed and we have planted 114 additional trees.

The Opposition has been asking if Raj Bhavans too could be renamed.
Why not? It's a free society. Since the Congress is ruling in two states, they can go ahead and rename Raj Bhavan as Kartavya Bhavan.

Urban Development Minister Hardeep singh Puri | PARVEEN NEGI

There are voices that call it the PM's vanity project at a time when the country grappled with the Covid pandemic...
I would say that these are motivated criticisms. When the pandemic appeared, the world was locking down, so was India. After a while, governments had to make a conscious decision between life and livelihood
We realise clearly that if you continued everything on a total lockdown basis, people who then start suffering the adverse consequences of no economic activity. Therefore, at a particular time, a calibrated opening started. This was one of the safest projects as all workers were vaccinated and we finished it in 18 months.
Several infrastructure projects were going on all over Delhi. Why is a PIL filed to stop this one? This one had the best arrangement.

Will the new Parliament be operational in the winter session as planned?
It's a work in progress and hopefully we will have the next winter session of Parliament in the new building. It's totally integrated. The new parliament will have the latest global technologies. It will also have Indian art, culture and history. The previous parliament was unfortunately never built even for the current size of the two Houses. It was in the seismic zone and was in a danger area. In the new building, every MP will have a separate chamber of his/her own. The insides are already completed.

The old Parliament building will be refurbished so that it can be used for institutions for parliamentary studies and other purposes. It will become a much bigger complex.

There is a concern that the project with its concentration of ministries and official residences will change the area into a high-security zone.
Ministries are spread across seven locations. People who make statements should check their facts. The government has to pay Rs 1,000 crore every month as rent for housing the offices. With the revamped project, we'll have state-of-the-art accessible offices. Bhavans cannot be refurbished because of their poor maintenance.

There are concerns about rehousing precious artefacts of the National Museum...
Every historical legacy will be protected. All the artefacts are packed and each one is accounted for. When South Block is ready, it will be shifted there. Everything is being done meticulously.

Many historians have written to the National Archives about the relocation of documents.
We are happy to talk to them and allay their fears... Some of them have signed petitions.

> Raj means colonial power. A colonial mindset was being created... Today, the pedestrian sideways along Kartavya Path are more robust. - Hardeep Puri

Naga group to resume talks with Delhi today

CHANDAN NANDY @New Delhi

'Ice-breaking talks'
Atem's talks with Mishra will be mainly an "ice-breaker" now considering the differences that had cropped up over two contentious issues — incorporation of the NSCN(IM) Yehzabo or 'Constitution' in the Indian Constitution and recognition to a "cultural" flag.

CONTRARY to earlier reports that NSCN(IM) General Secretary Thuingaleng Muivah will lead the peace talks on behalf of his outfit with the Centre's interlocutor A K Mishra here today, a team led by the insurgent organisation's 'General' V S Atem will resume the negotiations process.

An NSCN(IM) team led by Atem reached Delhi on Monday even as government sources in Nagaland said that Dimapur airport officials did not have advance information on Muivah's movement, which is "usually the case". Earlier reports had indicated that Muivah was also scheduled to consult doctors at AIIMS and undergo a thorough medical check-up during his Delhi visit. Atem's talks with Mishra will be mainly an "icebreaker" now considering the differences that had cropped up over two contentious issues — incorporation of the NSCN(IM) Yehzabo or 'Constitution' in the Indian Constitution and recognition to a "cultural" flag.

Owing to Muivah's ill health in May this year, Atem had led the talks that month with Mishra. But Muivah did hold low-key talks with Mishra in Shillong towards the end of August when it was indicated to the NSCN(IM) leadership that the Centre was not averse to incorporating the Yehzabo in the Constitution and according recognition to a "cultural" flag.

Sources familiar with the peace process said that the NSCN(IM), which was dissatisfied with the home ministry's suggestion earlier this month that neither the Yehzabo would be incorporated in the Constitution nor recognition given to a flag, was conveyed North Block's request that the outfit should return to the negotiation table.

SC says conflicting verdicts on death sentence, refers matter to 5-judge bench

SHRUTI KAKKAR @New Delhi

THE Supreme Court on Monday referred to a 5-judge bench the issue related to mitigating circumstances that should be considered by the courts while granting death ₹penalty as maximum punishment.

A bench of CJI UU Lalit, Justices SR Bhat and Sudhanshu Dhulia noted that there were conflicting judgments on the question as to whether accused/convict should be granted real and meaningful opportunity on the issue of sentence and said that it was necessary to have a clarity in the matter for ensuring a uniform approach.

"There exists a clear conflict of opinions by two sets of three judge bench decisions on the subject. As noticed before, this court in Bachan Singh had taken into consideration the fairness afforded to a convict by a separate hearing, as an important safeguard to uphold imposition of death sentence in the rarest of rare cases, by relying upon the recommendations of the 48th Law Commission Report. It is also a fact that in all cases where imposition of capital punishment is a choice of sentence, aggravating circumstances would always be on record, and would be part of the prosecution's evidence, leading to conviction, whereas the accused can scarcely be expected to place mitigating circumstances on the record, for the reason that the stage for doing so is after conviction. This places the convict at a hopeless disadvantage, tilting the scales heavily against him. This court is of the opinion that it is necessary to have clarity in the matter to ensure a uniform approach on the question of granting real and meaningful opportunity, as opposed to a formal hearing, to the accused/convict, on the issue of sentence," the court said.

"Consequently, this court is of the view that a reference to a larger bench of five Hon'ble Judges is necessary for this purpose. Let this matter be placed before the Hon'ble Chief Justice of India for appropriate orders in this regard," the court also said.

Observing that there was an urgent need for ensuring that the mitigating circumstances for conviction of offences that carry the possibility of death sentences are considered at the trial stage, the top court had taken note of the issue on its own.

The decision was taken while considering the plea of a man who had challenged the death penalty imposed by the lower court that was upheld by the MP HC and had titled the case as "Framing Guidelines Regarding Potential Mitigating Circumstances to be Considered While Imposing Death Sentences".

'Will appoint neutral person to run IOA'
The Supreme Court on Monday said it will appoint a neutral person to run the administration of the Indian Olympic Association and directed the secretary in the Ministry of Youth Affairs and Sports to interact with the International Olympic Committee on the issue. IOC on September 8 issued a final warning to IOA to "resolve its governance issues" and hold elections by December.

Hijab identity of Muslims, says lawyer
Asserting that the hijab is the "identity" of Muslims, senior advocate Dushyant Dave told the Supreme Court on Monday that various acts of ommission and commission of the Karnataka state authorities showed a "pattern to marginalise the minority community". The apex court was hearing arguments on a batch of petitions challenging the Karnataka High Court verdict refusing to lift the ban on hijab in educational institutions of the state that have prescribed uniforms. "This is not about uniform. I will be able to show to your lordships that by series of acts of commission and acts of omission that have happened, unfortunate incidents, I am not blaming any individual or anybody, but these acts of commission and omission show that there is a pattern to marginalise the minority community," Dave told a bench of Justices Hemant Gupta and Sudhanshu Dhulia. Dave submitted that Muslim women in a countries across the world have been wearing hijab.

PDS scam: Judge in contact with functionaries, says ED
Seeking transfer of investigation in the Nagrik Apurti Nigam (NAN) scam case related to the corruption in the Public Distribution System (PDS) outside Chhattisgarh, ED on Monday claimed before the SC that the judge was in touch with constitutional functionaries who were helping the accused. The scam had emerged in 2015 during the previous BJP government.

'If no Act, Wakf encroachers will have free run'
Backing provisions of the Wakf Act, the SC prima facie opined that if the Act is struck down, encroachers will have a free run. "When Wakf Act comes, its regulation of Waqf. If you get these provisions struck down, then the persons who have the Waqf will have a free run. We are of the opinion that the Waqf Act brings in regulations," a bench of Justices KM Joseph and Hrishikesh Roy said.

No surprises as Amarinder party merges with BJP

RAJESH KUMAR THAKUR
@New Delhi

FORMER chief minister Amarinder Singh on Monday merged his Punjab Lok Congress (PLC) with the BJP at an event at the latter's national headquarters here. This newspaper was the first to break the merger story on June 30.

"We have seen the Congress, which did nothing except caring for one family. Now, it is time to join a party like BJP, which doing so much for country," Singh said after the merger. Earlier in the day, he met BJP national president J P Nadda and Union home minister Amit Shah.

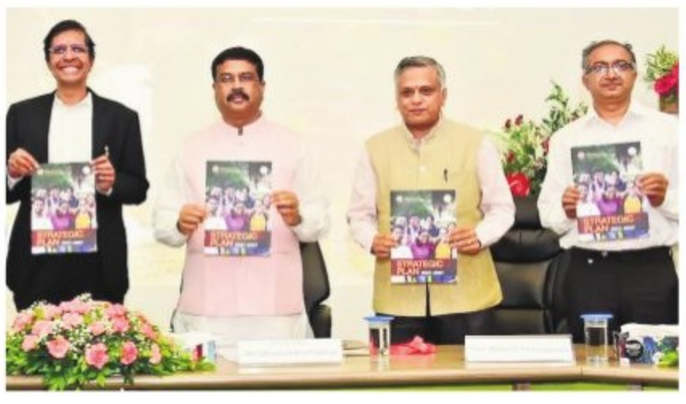
After being unceremoniously ejected from chief ministership, Singh had quit the Congress, floated the PLC and forged an electoral pact with the BJP and the SAD (Sanyukt) for the Punjab Assembly polls.

Speaking on the occasion, Union minister Kiren Rijiju said, "When I was MoS, home affairs, he was Punjab CM. We never had differences on issues of national interest." BJP leaders said the merger has given the party a credible Sikh face ahead of the 2024 elections.

MAJOR ROLE

IITs can help in making India $5tn eco: Pradhan

EXPRESS NEW SERVICE @Chennai



INSTITUTES like IITs have a major role in making India a $5 trillion economy and fulfilling the vision of Viksit Bharat, said union education minister Dharmendra Pradhan on Monday during his visit to IIT Madras. "The next 25 years are very important for all of us. While entering the Amrit kaal, we leapfrogged ahead of a country that colonised us. India is evolving at an unprecedented pace. A fast-growing India will have huge domestic requirements which have to be fulfilled by our IITs," he added.

Pradhan further said that IITs are not just educational institutions, they are the temples to create a scientific temper and shape humanity's future. Pradhan also urged the students to innovate, bring social change, file patents for the public good and facilitate the ease of living for the poorest.

"Our students need to rekindle their inner strengths, reignite their 'Chetna'. The students have to think big, drive social change and become job-providers rather than job-seekers," Pradhan said.

The Union minister highlighted that society has great expectations from IITs and the IITians have to be torchbearers of growth and development.

During his visit, Pradhan participated in a series of events at IIT Madras. He released the Strategic Plan 2021-27 of IIT Madras which proposed an ambitious growth phase for the Institute. He also launched 'Kotak IITM Save Energy' Mission, being set up with CSR funding support from Kotak to help MSMEs reduce energy consumption and felicitated the Mphasis team for supporting the growth of the Centre for Quantum Information, Communication and Computing (CQuICC) besides flagging off other projects and initiatives of IIT Madras.

He also awarded the diploma certificates to select students of BSc program in Data Science. The union minister also visited the 5G Test bed for a demonstration, at the Advanced Manufacturing Technologies Development Centre, the Rocket Factory of IIT Madras-based Start-up Agnikul Cosmos, Healthcare Technology Innovation Centre and the IIT Madras Incubation Cell at the IIT Madras Research Park apart from other research facilities such as Sudha Gopalakrishnan Brain Centre and the 3D-printed house in the campus.

After visiting the facilities, Pradhan lauded the initiatives of the IIT Madras. He said that the day is not far when the whole world will come to IIT Madras to benefit from the Brain Research Centre. Ideas, like 3D-printing technology can revolutionise construction, help address the issues of displacement and give a life of dignity to the poor.

Sea-phase of 14-nation naval drill starts in Oz, INS Satpura takes part

MAYANK SINGH @New Delhi

THE sea-phase of the "important" multinational exercise taking place in the northern part of Australia has begun. As per the Australian government this is by far the biggest iteration of the exercise since its inception in 1993.

As the Indian Navy's INS Satpura and P8I Maritime Patrol Aircraft are participating in the exercise.

The two week-long Exercise, both in harbour and sea, involves ships and maritime aircraft from 14 Navies. During the harbour phase of the exercise, the ship's crew will engage in operational planning interactions and sports activities with participating Navies.

Calling it an important drill, defence analyst Commodore Anil Jai Singh (Retd) said that it would help the navies of the similar minded nations to improve the relations which will help in future needs. "The expanse of the Indo-Pacific is quite large and this needs multiple countries to get together to not only improve the maritime domain awareness but also develop common protocols so that the navies can operate their warships and equipment together when the need comes."

India and Australia have been committed free, open and inclusive of Indo-Pacific including the South China Sea. This is said to be one of the biggest yet Kakadu iteration with it being a Royal Australian Navy (RAN) led exercise supported by the Royal Australian Air Force. The exercise is the RAN's flagship biennial regional International engagement activity and has grown in size and complexity since its inception in 1993.

Chief of Navy, Vice Admiral Mark Hammond in his welcome message earlier had said, "Exercise Kakadu is Navy's most significant international engagement activity and is vital for building relationships between participating countries," VADM Hammond said.

BJP makes gain in Maha local body elections

SUDHIR SURYAWANSHI
@ Mumbai

IN the local body elections of gram panchayat, the BJP has emerged as the single largest party. While the NCP bagged second most seats, the Maha Vikas Aghadi as an alliance together, got the highest numbers of gram panchayats in Maharashtra.

After the change of power in the state, for the first time there were local elections. The local body elections shows that the BJP still has a strong hold in Maharashtra with its bagging the highest numbers of gram panchayats that is 125, while the NCP continues to dominate its influence in the rural part of the state with winning the second largest gram panchayats that is 118.

The performance of Congress, Maharashtra chief minister Eknath Shinde led factions and Uddhav Thackeray led Shiv Sena's performance in local elections turned out to be poor.

Interestingly, if all three parties of the Maha Vikas Aghadi won gram panchayats, that is 181, while the BJP and Shinde camp has won 153 gram panchayats in the state. It shows that the Maha Vikas Aghadi together can still outperform the new political alignment in the state.

In Pune district, the NCP continued its dominance in local body elections. Out of 61 gram panchayats, the NCP won the highest 30 while BJP won three, Shinde camp won the three and Shiv Sena won the two while the remaining gram panchayat were won by the local alliances.

Interestingly, in Yavatmal district, Congress party bagged the highest 33 gram panchayats out of 71 while NCP won the nine, BJP won the two, Shiv Sena won the three gram panchayat and remained by local alliances.

In Jalgaon district, the NCP won four while BJP, Shinde camp and Shiv Sena won the three seats in local body elections.

On the other hand, in Dhule district, BJP out of 32 gram panchayats out of total 33 gram panchayats. It shows the BJP's dominance in Dhule district in local body elections.

Bengal univ V-C held in SSC scam

Ex-chairman of School Service Commission mastermind of recruitment fraud, alleges CBI

PRANAB MANDAL @ Kolkata

THE Central Bureau of Investigation (CBI) on Monday arrested vice chancellor of North Bengal University and former chairman of the School Service Commission (SSC) Subiresh Bhattacharya in connection with alleged recruitment scams in schools. Bhattacharya was arrested after being interrogated for over five hours at the central agency's Nizam Palace office in Kolkata.

"We found Bhattacharya's involvement in the irregularities when he was the chairman of the SSC. Durring the interrogation, he failed to come up with satisfactory explanations," said a CBI official.Chatterjee was first arrested by the ED in July and the CBI took him in its custody two days ago and described him as the mastermind behind the recruitment scam.

The total number of arrests in the recruitment scam case has gone up to six, which include former TMC minister Partha Chatterjee.Last week, the CBI arrested the former chairman of West Bengal Board of Secondary Education Kalyanmoy Ganguly in connection with the recruitment scam.

FIRST CHARGESHEET FILED

The chargesheet was filed before a special court in Kolkata, under various sections of the Prevention of Money Laundering Act.

172 page chargesheet was filed on the 58th day of the arrest of former WB minister Partha Chatterjee and his associate Arpita Mukherjee.

There are 43 witnesses in the case.

The documents attached with the chargesheet run into as many as 146,043 pages.

Earlier, the investigating agency arrested Shanti Prasad Sinha, the former advisor of the SSC, and Ashoke Saha and former SSC secretary Ashok Saha.

In another development, the ED on Monday submitted chargesheet mentioning the names of Chatterjee and his close aide Arpita Mukherjee, in court. Arpita was arrested after the agency recovered cash ₹49.8 crore from her apartments. In the chargesheet, the ED mentioned about 103 properties suspected to be proceeds of the alleged scam.

"We mentioned about 35 bank accounts where ₹8 crore was deposited. Besides, the recovery of gold valued ₹5 crore. Our investigation revealed involvement of ₹149.8 crore which is proceeds of the crime," said an ED official. The ED officials arrived at the court with two trunks stashed with documents related to the alleged recruitment scam in schools. Sources in the CBI said during the course of interrogation on Monday, Chatterjee said he had signed the files related to recruitments which were sent to him by the officials of the department. "I had a limited role to play in the recruitment through the SSC. I relied on the officials of the education department," the former TMC minister reportedly told the sleuths of the central agency. The central agency said it would interrogate the officials of the education department on the basis of Chatterjee's claim.

The charge sheet was filed before a special court in Kolkata, under various sections of the Prevention of Money Laundering Act (PMLA), on the 58th day of the arrest of the two.

The 172-page charge sheet was filed before the PMLA court at the Bankshall Court here against eight entities - Chatterjee, Mukherjee and six other companies that were allegedly found to have been floated in connection with the case, ED counsel Abhijit Bhadra said.

According to the charge sheet, there are 43 witnesses in the case. The documents attached with the charge sheet run into as many as 146,043 pages, Bhadra stated.

State BJP divided over training of farm leaders

Criticism surfaced within the BJP as the saffron camp decided to organise a two-day training session for the leaders of the party's peasants' wing in a luxurious resort in Jalpaiguri. The session will be held on September 21 and 22. Leaders from BJP's peasant wing in West Bengal, Odisha, Bihar, Jharkhand, Chhattisgarh and Andaman will participate in the training programme. Recently, the saffron camp had organised a training event in a spa resort in Rajarhat near Kolkata which also drew flak. A section of party leaders found organising such events will actually widen the path for opposition parties to attack the BJP.

Producers ordered to stick to green fireworks

The state pollution control board has asked licensed fireworks makers to produce only green fireworks — the ones that are cleared by the National Environmental Engineering Research Institute (NEERI). Rajesh Kumar, member secretary of the board said previously the state had 57 authorised fireworks units and these units will only produce green fireworks which are cleared by NEERI. Green fireworks are expected to create less pollution compared with the conventional ones. Last year, the Supreme Court had ruled that only green fireworks could be manufactured and used and asked NEERI, a central agency, to prepare the formulation for green fireworks.

Mayor intervention to curb dengue spread

The councillors of the Kolkata Municipal Corporation (KMC) have to get involved in the fight against dengue on the ground to prevent further spread of the disease, which has turned scary, said mayor of the civic body Firhad Hakim. Around 900 dengue cases have been reported in Kolkata this year. Six people have died since August and five of them in 10 days this month. Several hospitals have reported a sharp rise in the number of people admitted with dengue. "Unless we turn the fight against dengue into a movement, we will not be successful. Organise awareness camps, involve clubs in battling dengue," said Hakim, in a meeting with the councillors.

RAJ MLA GETS COW IN HOUSE, BUT SHE BOLTS!

RAJESH ASNANI @ Jaipur

THE monsoon session of the Rajasthan assembly began with an amusing bit of cow politics. A BJP MLA brought a cow suffering from the lumpy disease to highlight the huge number of cow deaths due to lumpy virus. But while he was giving TV interviews with the cow in the backdrop, the 'Gau-Mata' decided to bolt away leaving the BJP MLA red faced.

To further fuel cow politics, the BJP will gherao the Assembly on Tuesday but the ruling Congress says the BJP has no sensitivity for cows but is only trying to milk them for political gains.

When a fierce uproar broke out inside the Assembly on Monday over the death of cows, BJP MLA from Pushkar, Suresh Singh Rawat, brought a cow to protest against the lumpy disease. But as soon as the MLA started speaking to TV media, the cow ran away after releasing the rope held in the MLA's hand. The person accompanying the MLA ran to catch the cow, but the cow refused to listen to either the MLA's supporter or the MLA. The cow ran on the road so much that an atmosphere of panic was created among the security personnel outside the assembly.

After this incident, MLA Rawat blamed the ruling Congress for the cow's escape. He claimed, "I brought the Gaumata to the Assembly because the Rajasthan government did not take care of the Gaumata and did nothing for the prevention and treatment of lumpy disease in cows. Angry with the government and the police, the cow has run away. I accuse the Congress government of being the murderer of lakhs of cows. The government will definitely feel the impact of this sin as it is responsible for the deaths of cows."

C'garh HC quashes 58% quota in jobs

EJAZ KAISER @ Raipur

IN a significant order, the Chhattisgarh High Court on Monday quashed the 58 per cent reservation in educational institutions and jobs as "unconstitutional".

A division bench comprising chief justice Arup Kumar Goswami and justice PP Sahu declared that the reservation provided under different categories must not cross the 50 per cent ceiling.

In 2012, the BJP regime led by then Raman Singh government had raised the quotas up to 58 per cent reservation in educational institutions and government jobs.

Then the reservation of the Scheduled Caste (SC) community was reduced from 16 per cent to 12 per cent, it was increased for Scheduled Tribes (STs) to 32 per cent while keeping the quota for Other Backward Castes at 14 per cent.

The decision was then challenged in the court that kept the decision reserved and gave its verdict on Monday.

Chhattisgarh High Court set aside the state government's 2012 decision citing the Supreme Court order on 50 percent cap on reservation.

SIT formed to probe 'objectionable' video, pvt univ students call off stir

Students during a protest at Chandigarh University in Mohali | PTI

THE Punjab Police on Monday formed a three-member all-woman Special Investigation Team (SIT) to probe the allegations that a hosteller had made several objectionable videos of girl students, following which the agitating students called off their protests.

Following assurances of a transparent probe, the students ended their protest around 1.30am on Monday, SSP SAS Nagar Vivek Sheel Soni said. The university announced "non-teaching days" till September 24, following which several students were seen returning to their homes.

Meanwhile, the three accused persons, including the hosteller of the Chandigarh University, were sent to seven-day police remand by a court at Kharar in Mohali. The police had sought 10-day remand of the accused.

A committee, comprising students, university officials, district administration and police officials, is being formed to address the students' demands, according to sources.

The SIT, which will be supervised by ADGP (Community Affairs Division and Women Affairs) Gurpreet Kaur Deo, will ensure speedy investigations into the case, Punjab DGP Punjab Gaurav Yadav said. Other members of the SIT are SP (Counter-Intelligence, Ludhiana) Rupinder Kaur Bhatti, DSP Kharar-1 Rupinder Kaur and DSP AGTF Deepika Singh. Also, SSP SAS Nagar Vivek Sheel Soni can help provide functional requirements.

"The investigations are on. Electronic devices of the three accused were seized. The guilty will not be spared," the DGP said.

Protests rocked the Chandigarh University campus Saturday midnight over the issue, with some students claiming that the videos recorded by the hosteller were leaked. They accused a hostel warden of misbehaving with them when they tried to register complaint. The university authorities, however, dismissed these allegations as "false and baseless". The hosteller was arrested on Sunday morning.

Following preliminary investigations, Himachal Pradesh police arrested a 23-year-old man with whom the hosteller had allegedly shared the videos. Later, a 31-year-old man, too, was arrested from the hill state. The two were then handed over to Punjab Police.

3 accused sent to 7-day police remand

The three accused, including the hosteller of the Chandigarh University, were on Monday sent to seven-day police remand by a court at Kharar in Mohali. The police had sought 10-day remand of the accused.

Valley all set to get its first multiplex today after 32 yrs, L-G to inaugurate

FAYAZ WANI @ Srinagar

A cinema screen at the new multiplex in Srinagar's Shivpora area | EXPRESS

SRINAGAR people will experience cinema-going after 32 years with the first multiplex set to be thrown open at the Kashmiri capital on Tuesday. Lieutenant Governor Manoj Sinha will formally inaugurate the complex while it will be ready for general public starting September 30.

Vijay Dhar, the owner of te complex, told this newspaper that all arrangements have been completed and the L-G would inaugurate the multiplex tomorrow.

Set up in the highly secured Shivpora area of Srinagar, premier entertainment company INOX is the partner for this complex. With a total seating capacity of 520 seats, the cinema will have three screens in all. Initially, two screens would be operational while the third will be ready in October.

Dhar said a special screening of Aamir Khan-starrer Laal Singh Chadda would be held at the multiplex on its first day.

Cutting-edge technology 3D viewing is also enabled in the new multiplex.

The Hritik Roshan and Saif Ali Khan-starrer Vikram Vedha would be the first film to release here, said Dhar, who also runs the Delhi Public School in Srinagar.

Meanwhile, L-G Manoj Sinha on Sunday inaugurated one multipurpose cinema each in militant hit districts of Pulwama and Shopian in south Kashmir.

"Multipurpose cinema halls will offer facilities ranging from movie screening, infotainment and skilling of youth," said the L-G.

The cinema halls in Kashmir were shut in 1990 after militants ordered their closure.

'Agencies probing only one side'

THE resolution said, "despite names of BJP leaders featuring in chit fund scams, the agencies are overlooking and probing just one-side of the matter." It went on to allege that the Central agencies are part of a larger conspiracy to topple democratically elected governments.

In past two months, the ED and the CBI have arrested former minister Partha Chatterjee and the party's strongman Anubrata Mondal.

On Monday, the CBI arrested Subiresh Bhattacharya, Vice Chancellor of North Bengal University and former head of the School Service Commission in connection with the recruitment scam in schools.

Separatist Hurriyat finished, militancy in J&K on crutches: DGP Dilbag Singh

FAYAZ WANI @ Srinagar

JAMMU and Kashmir police chief Dilbagh Singh on Monday said that militancy in J&K was under control and on crutches and separatist Hurriyat Conference was finished.

Talking to reporters on the sidelines of a function in Kishtwar district of J&K, Singh said that militancy in J&K was under control. "The militancy is on crutches and the remaining militants will either be soon be arrested or killed," he said.

With the cooperation of people, peace is growing in Jammu and Kashmir, he said. "More collective efforts are required to stabilise it further," he added. The DGP further said social media remains under watch for 24x7 and police is working tirelessly in protecting the interests of the people.

"We don't leave any effort to foil any nefarious designs on social media," he said, adding that social media propaganda to lure youth towards violence and drugs are being countered effectively.

> In order to keep Hurriyat alive, they have opened a Hurriyat chapter in Pakistan. They give bandh calls from there but they have to face humiliation as none adhered to their strike call and no bandhs are being observed
> Dilbagh Singh, J&K police chief

On a question of separatist conglomerate Hurriyat Conference, the DGP said Hurriyat has finished.

"In order to keep Hurriyat alive, they have opened a Hurriyat chapter in Pakistan. They give bandh calls from there but they have to face humiliation as none adhered to their strike call and no bandhs are being observed," he said.

The DGP said the bandh call given by Hurriyat on August 5 this year (third anniversary of Article 370 revocation) was totally rejected by the people of J&K as no bandh was observed anywhere in J&K and instead there were celebrations.

Following the imprisonment of several of its leaders in the wake of the repeal of Article 370 in 2019 and the passing of its main leader Syed Ali Shah Geelani in 2021, the Hurriyat Conference, an umbrella organisation of separatist groups in J&K, which once held a dominant position in the valley, was rendered insignificant.

Referring to madrassas, he said, they are doing a good job. "However, a tight vigil is being maintained on the institutions, whose students have become militants in the past."

WORLD BIDS FINAL GOODBYE TO QUEEN ELIZABETH II

After poignant state funeral, the late monarch's body lowered into royal vault at St George's Chapel

LONDON

QUEEN Elizabeth II's coffin was on Monday lowered into the Royal Vault at St George's Chapel in Windsor Castle, bringing to an end public mourning for Britain's longest-reigning monarch.

The "second Elizabethan age" was symbolically brought to a close when the highest-ranking official in the royal household, Lord Chamberlain Andrew Parker, broke his wand of office and the Imperial State Crown, orb and sceptre were placed on the high altar.

The Queen's funeral service at Westminster Abbey ebbed between moments of triumph and peace, lament and emotion — and awesome majesty.

Inside the imposing Gothic church, royalty and government leaders said farewell to a monarch whose longevity and omnipresence made her — in the words of French President Emmanuel Macron — "The Queen".

It was at the abbey in 1953 that she was crowned. It was there that she married Prince Philip, in 1947. The coffin was borne in procession from nearby Westminster Hall and the thunder of the approaching drums and sound of the massed pipes reverberated in the church as the procession passed outside.

Westminster Abbey's tenor bell tolled every minute for 96 minutes, signifying the age at which Britain's longest-reigning sovereign died on September 8. Each strike added to the anticipation, while the organ music, played in minor keys, grew louder and deeper as the bearer party approached.

As the coffin arrived at the Great West Door, the 2,000 congregants stood in a wave spreading towards the altar.

Eight Grenadier Guardsmen in scarlet jackets, their bearskin hats removed, carried the coffin over the memorial stone for Winston Churchill, the first of Queen Elizabeth II's 15 prime ministers.

The late monarch's eldest son, King Charles III, led the royal family walking slowly behind the coffin.

On the lead-lined, oak coffin lay a new wreath of flowers, with the message "In loving and devoted memory. Charles R", meaning Rex, or king.

The service included Bible readings by Commonwealth Secretary-General Patricia Scotland and by Liz Truss -- appointed by the queen as her last British prime minister only two days before she passed away. During the prayers, the sun shone through the vast south rose window, bringing out the Royal Standard's vivid red, blue and yellow hues on the coffin. Agencies

King's handwritten note adds personal touch to funeral

LONDON

"IN loving and devoted memory, Charles R." This handwritten card from King Charles III placed among the colourful flowers lying over rich green foliage gave personal touch to British Queen Elizabeth II's coffin during the late monarch's final journey on Monday.

The gold, pink and deep burgundy colour flowers and plants, taken from the gardens of royal properties, were chosen for their symbolism, the BBC reported.

At King Charles III's request, the wreath for the Britain's longest-serving monarch's funeral contained flowers and foliage cut from the gardens of Buckingham Palace and Clarence House in London — and Highgrove House in Gloucestershire, it said.

The colourful flowers and plants were chosen for their symbolism — Rosemary for remembrance, Myrtle, the ancient symbol of a happy marriage, cut from a plant that was grown from a sprig of myrtle in The Queen's wedding bouquet in 1947, and English oak, a national symbol of strength, in a nod to the Queen's constancy and steadfast duty. It also symbolises the strength of love, it added.The flowers in the Queen's funeral wreath featured scented pelargoniums, garden roses, autumnal hydrangea, sedum, dahlias and scabious, all in shades of gold, pink and deep burgundy, with touches of white, to reflect the colours in the Royal Standard flag on which it sat, it said.

The wreath was made in a sustainable way instead in a nest of English moss and oak branches at the request of King Charles, who is well-known for his commitment to the environment, it added.

Unlike Monday's colourful wreath, more traditional white funeral wreaths sat atop the Queen's coffin on her final journey from Balmoral. PTI

Writer Meena Kandasamy wins German literary award

FEMINIST writer Meena Kandasamy is the winner of this year's Hermann Kesten Prize by the German PEN Center, German broadcaster DW News reported on Monday.

"Honestly, I am not sure how to process it," Kandasamy told DW News. "Previous recipients include Günter Grass and Harold Pinter, and the weight of what this prize means is actually still sinking in," she said.

Kandasamy noted that she sees the award "not only as an affirmation of what I have done, but of the historical responsibility that we all have as progressive writers and artists in India today."

Vice-president of the German PEN Center Cornelia Zetzsche called the 37-year-old born in Chennai, "a fearless fighter for democracy and human rights, for the free word and against the suppression of landless people, minorities and Dalits in India".

"With empathy, analytical precision and literary fervour, she goes through patriarchal, feudal structures and identifies in speeches and writings, violence against women, consequences of unbridled capitalism and the massacre of farmers in southern India," Zetzsche was quoted as saying by DW News.

SWISS SIGN $6BN DEAL TO BUY F-35 FIGHTERS

SWITZERLAND SIGNED A CONTROVERSIAL CONTRACT ON MONDAY TO BUY 36 US F-35 STEALTH FIGHTER JETS AT A COST OF MORE THAN $6.2 BILLION

RAFALE, SUPER HORNET FAIL TO IMPRESS

The selection of the F-35 by the Swiss government in June 2021 sparked some controversy, particularly in light of the cost-overruns of the fighter programme in the United States.

But a Swiss parliamentary investigation did not call into question the selection of the fighter.

The Swiss government and parliament also short-circuited holding a referendum on the plane's purchase despite enough signatures being collected to put the issue to voters, saying there was not enough time to do so before manufacturer's offer expires. The Swiss government chose the F-35 jets over F/A-18 Super Hornet and Rafale

2030
By when the F-35s will be delivered. The new jets are to replace the country's aging fleet of F/A-18 Hornets and F-5 Tigers

BIG-TICKET PURCHASE SPARKS OUTCRY

Opponents say the planes are too expensive, would tie Swiss security too closely to the US and are ill-suited for the needs of Switzerland, which now joins many other European countries that have opted for the jet

Russian missile lands close to nuclear plant

Ukrainian national guard servicemen carry a bag containing the body of a Ukrainian soldier in an area near the border with Russia on Monday | AP

KYIV

A Russian missile struck close to a nuclear power plant in southern Ukraine without damaging the three reactors but hit other industrial equipment in what Ukrainian authorities denounced Monday as an act of "nuclear terrorism."

The strike followed warnings from Russian President Vladimir Putin of possible stepped-up attacks on Ukrainian infrastructure after his forces suffered humiliating battlefield setbacks. It also renewed fears of a possible radioactive disaster in the nearly 7-month-long war. The missile struck within 300 meters of reactors at the Pivdennoukrainsk plant, also known as the South Ukraine Nuclear Power Plant, blasting a crater 2 meters deep and 4 meters across, according to Ukrainian nuclear operator Energoatom.

Black-and-white CCTV footage released by Ukraine's Ministry of Defense showed two large fireballs erupting one after the other in the dark, followed by incandescent showers of sparks. A time stamp on the video read 19 minutes after midnight. The ministry and Energoatom both called the strike "nuclear terrorism." The Russian Defense Ministry had no immediate comment. The United Nations' nuclear watchdog, the International Atomic Energy Agency, did not immediately respond to a request for comment.

The industrial complex that includes the Pivdennoukrainsk nuclear plant sits along the Southern Bug River more than 300 kilometers south of the Ukrainian capital, Kyiv. The attack caused the temporary shutdown of a nearby hydropower plant and shattered more than 100 windows at the complex, Energoatom said.

Ukraine's presidential office said the attack also severed three power transmission lines. The nuclear plant is Ukraine's second-largest after the Zaporizhzhia Nuclear Power Plant, which is Europe's largest and has repeatedly come under fire. The two plants have reactors of the same design. AFP

Baltic states close borders to Russians

WARSAW

ESTONIA, Latvia, and Lithuania closed their borders on Monday to most Russian citizens in response to the wide domestic support in Russia for the war in Ukraine.

Under the coordinated travel ban, Russians wishing to travel to the Baltic countries and to Poland as tourists or for business, sports or cultural purposes will not be allowed in even if they hold valid visas for the European Union's checks-free Schengen Area.

The prime ministers of the three Baltic nations and of Poland agreed earlier this month to stop admitting Russian citizens, saying the move would protect the security of the European Union member countries neighbouring Russia.

"Russia is an unpredictable and aggressive state. Three-quarters of its citizens support the war. It is unacceptable that people who support the war can freely travel around the world, into Lithuania, the EU," Lithuanian Interior Minister Agne Bilotaite said Monday.

"Such support for hostilities can pose threats to the security of our country and the EU as a whole," she added.

The ban includes exceptions for humanitarian reasons, family members of EU citizens, Russian dissidents, serving diplomats, transportation employees and Russians with residence permits or long-stay national visas from the 26 Schengen countries.

DISH TV CHAIRMAN STEPS DOWN

Yes Bank, which owns 25% stake, had been seeking reconstitution of board, Goel's removal

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU
@ New Delhi

IN a major win for Yes Bank, Jawahar Lal Goel, the Chairman of broadcast satellite service provider Dish TV, on Monday, stepped down from the company's board.

Private lender Yes Bank, which owns nearly 25% share in Dish TV, had been actively seeking for the reconstitution of Dish TV board and removal of Goel, along with a few other members, citing corporate governance issues.

"Jawahar Lal Goel, Director, vide his letter dated September 19, 2022, has tendered his resignation from company's Board of Directors and committee/s thereof with effect from the close of business hours of September 19, 2022. Consequently, he shall cease to be the Chairman of the Board," said a regulatory filing by Dish TV.

Shares of Dish TV India hit an upper circuit of 10% at ₹16.86 on the BSE.

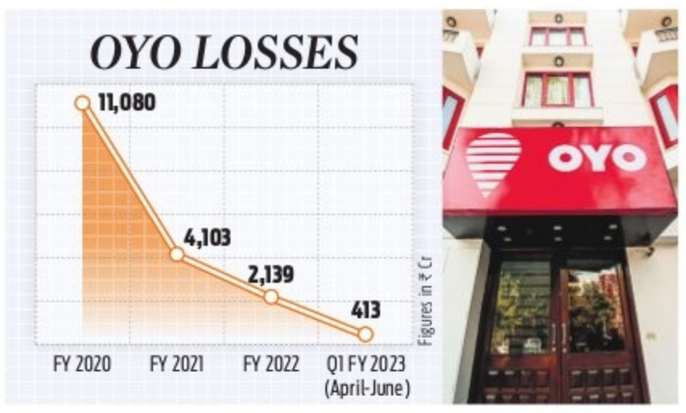
Earlier in June 2022, the shareholders in an extraordinary general meeting (EGM) had rejected the proposal for reappointment of Goel as managing director, following which he had to vacate his office. The reappointment of Anil Kumar as wholetime director had also failed then.

Dish TV is run by Goel, Subhash Chandra's brother. Eleven promoter group entities held 5.93% of Dish' equity capital, of which 39.82% stake were pledged as of March 2022. The promoters' stake in the June ending quarter fell to 4.04%. While the tussle between Yes Bank and Dish TV promoters is over a year old, the lender's influence on the board of Dish TV has been strong in recent times. Last month, Dish TV had agreed to add a couple of Yes Bank nominees to its board and on August 30 further considered one more nominee.

Yes Bank, once among India's top private banks, had acquired a stake in Dish TV after private entities owned by Essel Group promoter Subhash Chandra defaulted on its ₹5,270-crore loan. The bank, which now itself is in a transition phase, seized the pledged shares and acquired the shares in May last year. Chandra then filed a police complaint alleging fraud by Yes Bank's former management led by Rana Kapoor. He said that the Bank forced him to take over Videocon D2H, a rival company, to bail out the promoters of Videocon group.

In a nutshell: DishTV developments

- Last month, Dish TV had agreed to add a couple of Yes Bank nominees to its board
- Shareholders, in an EGM, had rejected reappointment of Goel as MD in June 2022
- Dish TV shares hit an upper circuit of 10% at `16.86 on the BSE



Oyo revised IPO paper shows reduced losses

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU
@ New Delhi

HOSPITALITY firm Oyo, operated by Oravel Stays, on Monday, filed fresh financial documents with market regulator Sebi, as it eyes a public listing later this year or early 2023.

The document shows cost cuts, reduced losses and pick up in business activity post the covid-19 to investor community who have been avoiding loss-making technology stocks such as Paytm, Zomato and CarTrade.

In the fresh document, the Softbank-backed firm reported a loss of ₹413.9 crore for Q1FY23, but claimed to have turned operationally profitable for the first time in the same quarter before accounting for costs related to its employee stock option grants. Oyo reported an adjusted Ebitda (earnings before interest, taxation, depreciation and amortization) of ₹7.26 crore before 'share based expenses'.

Oyo's loss for the full financial year 2022 (FY22) came in at ₹2,139.9 crore, as against ₹4,103.3 crore in the previous financial year (FY21). Its adjusted Ebitda loss came at ₹471.7 crore in FY22, compared to a loss of ₹1,744.7 crore in FY21, the filing paper said.

Oyo also highlighted that its general and administrative expenses decreased by 44.4% from ₹926 crore in FY21 to ₹515 crore in FY22. Oyo's revenue from contracts with customers increased by 20.7% year-on-year to ₹4,781.3 crore in FY22. Its revenue from contracts with customers for the three month period ended June 30, 2022, was ₹1,459.3 crore. The company is now looking for an IPO in the third quarter of FY23 when investor sentiments are high in the backdrop of festive season, said a source requesting anonymity. However, it may get pushed to early 2023, depending on the necessary clearance by market regulator Sebi, he added. Oyo had first filed its draft red herring prospectus (DRHP) with Sebi last year in October and in May 2022, it had sought Sebi's permission to include restated financial statements for the six months ending September for fiscal years 2022, 2021 and 2020. The company, as per reports, delayed the public market debut initially planned for September 2022 at a lower valuation of around $7-8 billion versus the earlier planned figure of $11 billion.

DISINVESTMENT

Govt plans stake sale in RCF, NFL via OFS this year

MONIKA YADAV @ New Delhi

THE government is planning to sell 10-20% of its stake in Rashtriya Chemicals Fertilizers (RCF) and National Fertilizers (NFL) this year, officials familiar with the development told TNIE.

The stake sale will be through offer for sale (OFS), but the timeline hasn't yet been decided, as per the sources.

"While 15-20% stake may be diluted in NFL via OFS, 10% could be offloaded through the same route this year," the source said.

RCF and NFL both are the mini-ratna companies, which come under the Ministry of Chemicals and Fertilizers. While NFL registered a ₹108.20 crore profits in FY22, RCF recorded a profit of ₹683.13 crore in the same fiscal.

The government has set a disinvestment target of ₹65,000 crore, a significant decline from last year's target of ₹1.75 lakh crore. So far, it has risen more than ₹24,000 crore as disinvestment receipts in the current fiscal, as per the information available on Department of Investment and Public Asset Management (DIPAM) website. Meanwhile, as per sources, the strategic disinvestment of Project and Development India Ltd (PDIL) is under process. The expression of interest (EoI) for the strategic sale of PDIL was already floated in February this year. DIPAM is taking further steps on finalisation of documents for inviting bids, the source added. In addition, as per reports, finance ministry is also considering floating the EoI for erstwhile Air India's two subsidiaries - AIASL and AIESL. Debt-ridden Air India was taken over by Tata Group in October last year for the consideration of ₹18,000 crore.

'Vedanta credit profile won't be weighed down by ₹1.5L cr foray'

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU
@ New Delhi

ANIL AGARWAL-led-Vedanta Resources' credit profile is unlikely to be weighed down by the group's planned ₹1.54 lakh crore foray into semiconductor manufacturing, according to a report.

Rating agency S&P Global also noted that Vedanta Resources doesn't assume any material exposure by the company or its key subsidiary, Vedanta Ltd, to the semiconductor business over next 12-24 months. "This is because the company has reiterated that the 1.54 lakh crore related investment will be carried out outside of Vedanta Resources. The business will be undertaken in a separate entity under Vedanta Resources' holding company Volcan Investments Ltd," reads the report.

Last week, Vedanta Ltd, along with Taiwanese chip maker Foxconn, announced to invest ₹1.54 lakh crore to set up semiconductor ecosystem in Gujarat. The proposed semiconductor manufacturing fab unit will operate on the 28nm technology nodes and the display manufacturing unit will produce Generation 8 displays catering to small, medium and large applications.

"We believe Vedanta Resources will prudently manage its investments so that it doesn't put debt servicing at risk," reads the report.

Sharing the same view Kaustubh Chaubal, senior vice-President at Moody's Investors Service, said the proposed semiconductor project will have no immediate impact on Vedanta Resources Limited's credit profile.

Ecommerce platforms expect to see better sales this festive season

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU
@ Bengaluru

E-TAILERS such as Walmart-owned Flipkart, Amazon and SoftBank-backed Meesho, among others, are all set to hold their annual festive season sale soon, and this time it is expected that the first week of the season will garner more sales compared to the last year.

In its recent report, Redseer said festive sales will grow by 28% to reach $5.9 billion in the first week itself. The sales during the entire festive month are projected to reach $11.8 billion this year, compared to $9.2 billion in 2021.

It is predicted that the fashion category is looking at a strong growth this year and influencer marketing is projected to expand to a $16.4 billion industry this year.

Klub and CRED's report on the festive season said from

UPI-based payment systems to improved security during online payments, an overall change in payment method has also been reflected in the consumer purchase behaviour.

Also, e-commerce giants are shifting their focus to tier-II and -III cities. In 2021, 1.5x more customers signed up for Prime Membership compared to the previous year's Prime Day, with two out of three new members joining from outside of the top 10 towns or cities, says the report.

Logistics start-up Shiprocket added 68,000 new sellers in 2020 alone, where 51% were from tier-II and -III cities.

This year for The Big Billion Days (TBBD), Flipkart has onboarded over 2 lakh kirana delivery partners. Flipkart group company Myntra has created over 16,000 direct and indirect seasonal employment opportunities through its partners to cater to the expected surge in sales during the festive period.

It also added over 1,000 executives as part of Myntra's customer support service. The neighbourhood Kirana store partners will play a pivotal role by fulfilling 80% of the festive orders across the country, it said.

As the Indian economy has revived its growth trajectory, and consumer spending power has also increased post pandemic, festive hiring is also anticipated to grow by at least 30%-35% as compared to the previous year, said Randstad India.

CBI files chargesheet against Kapoor, Thapar

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU
@ New Delhi

THE Central Bureau of Investigation (CBI) on Monday filed a chargesheet against Rana Kapoor, the then MD & CEO, Yes Bank; Gautam Thapar, chairman of Avantha Group and Gurgaon-based company Oyster Buildwell, for causing an alleged loss of ₹. 467 crore to Yes Bank.

CBI had in June 2021 registered a case against Oyster Buildwell and others on a complaint from Yes Bank. The bank in its complaint has accused Oyster Buildwell, a Gurgaon-based company of Avantha Group, of misrepresentation of purpose of funding and diversion of loan extended to it for repayment of debt of other group companies.

During its investigation, the CBI found that the Oyster Buildwell had availed credit facilities from Yes Bank and diverted the same to its holding company – Avantha Realty and other group companies – which were in financial stress and where direct lending by any bank would not have been feasible. Avantha Realty holds 97.9% and Gautam Thapar holds 2% in Oyster Buildwell. It was alleged that the loan availed by Oyster Buildwell was to be used as security deposit to Jabhua Power for operations and maintenance to be done in the plant. However, it later came to light that Jhabua Power, also an Avantha Group company, had granted loans from the security deposit made by Oyster Buildwell to other group companies.

DotPe raises $58 million in Series-B round

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU
@ Bengaluru

DOTPE, a multi-channel commerce platform for big and medium-scale merchants, has raised $58 million in Series B funding round led by Temasek.

Existing investors PayU, the payments and fintech business of Prosus, and InfoEdge Ventures also participated in the round. Mitsubishi and Naya Capital have joined as new investors.

DotPe's Co-Founder and CEO, Shailaz Nag said, "There are millions of offline businesses in India waiting for simple, effective and affordable tech-led tools to scale."

As we keep democratising opportunities for business growth with our omni-channel solutions and making technology more affordable and accessible, we also plan to foray into financial services and further empower merchants with business loans and credit lines to turbocharge their growth, Nag added.

DotPe currently serves over 7.5 million brands including McDonald's, 24 Seven and Taco Bell in its portfolio. Founded in 2020, DotPe's merchant-base has grown over 3X since launch.

ADANI AIMS TO BE MOST PROFITABLE CEMENT COMPANY

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU
@ New Delhi

AFTER the ambitious takeover of ACC and Ambuja Cements, Adani Group chairman Gautam Adani said they expect significant margin expansion to become the most profitable cement manufacturer in the country.

Not only becoming the most profitable cement company, Adani also indicated that they would strive to become the country's largest cement manufacturer by taking its capacity to 140 million tonnes in the next 5 years. "We anticipate going from the current 70 million tonnes capacity to 140 million tonnes in the next 5 years," said Adani, now the world's second-richest billionaire.

UltraTech Cement, which is promoted by billionaire Kumar Manglam Birla, currently has a manufacturing capacity of 120 million tonnes. He aims to increase the capacity to 160 million tonnes per annum by 2030. Ambuja Cements shares rallied 9.25% on Monday to close at ₹564.50, while shares of ACC closed 1% higher at 2,640 on the NSE. Ultratech share prices closed .50% lower at ₹6,445. Adani said his confidence in the cement business comes as he believes in India's growth story and infrastructure needs. "Our per capita consumption is just 250 kg compared to 1,600 kg of China. This is nearly a 7x headroom for growth. Furthermore, as several of the government programmes gather momentum, the long-term average growth in cement demand is expected to be 1.2 to 1.5 times the GDP. We anticipate growing at twice this number," he said.

"Therefore, as our nation's growth story unfolds with trillion-dollar investments in infra and housing, cement is an attractive adjacency to our infrastructure business, especially the Group's ports and logistics business, green energy business, and the ecommerce platform being developed. These adjacencies give us a significant competitive advantage and puts us in a position to gain unmatched scale," added Adani.

Adani Group on Friday announced completing the acquisition of Ambuja and ACC at a value to $6.50 billion, which is the largest-ever acquisition by Adani, and also India's largest-ever M&A transaction in the infrastructure and materials space.

Sebi comes up with framework for social stock exchange

NEW DELHI: Capital markets regulator Sebi on Monday came out with a detailed framework for social stock exchange (SSE), specifying minimum requirements for a Not-for-Profit Organisation for registering with the bourse and disclosure requirements. This came after Sebi, in July, notified rules for SSE to provide social enterprises with an additional avenue to raise funds. PTI

Govt to launch PM-PRANAM scheme soon to reduce chemical fertiliser use

MONIKA YADAV @ New Delhi

IN a bid to discourage use of chemical fertilisers, the government is likely to launch a scheme called -- Pradhan Mantri – Promotion of Alternative Nutritious And Agriculture Management (PM-PRANAM).

The scheme will incentivise those states that use lesser amounts of chemical fertilisers in a particular year as compared with the average quantity used over a period of last three years.

"Those states, which used less fertiliser like urea, diammonium phosphate (DAP), muriate of potash (MOP)...etc in a year as against the average consumption of the last three years will be incentivised by providing incentive grants at the rate of 50% of the total amount of subsidy saved by using less fertilizer," the source said.

To incentivise for using less chemical fertilisers

The scheme will incentivise those states that use lesser amounts of chemical fertilisers in a particular year as compared with the average quantity used over a period of last three years

"States can use 80% of such incentive grant for the welfare of farmers like setting up of bio/organic fertiliser plants. The remaining fund can be used to run the schemes, which provide them with alternative fertilisers," he further added.

"The scheme will not lead to any fresh economic burden on the exchequer," he stated. Prime Minister Narendra Modi on August 15, while delivering his independence speech had appealed to the farmers to use less chemical fertilisers. "Today natural farming is also the path towards self-reliance.... Natural farming, chemical-free farming can give strength to the country's goal of becoming self-reliant," Modi had stated.

Bitcoin falls 6%; Ethereum down after the Merge

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU
@ Bengaluru

BITCOIN, the world's largest cryptocurrency, on Monday dropped close to 6% and reached below $18,300 level on Monday, and Ethereum too hit multi-month low following the Merge.

The Merge, which is the technical upgrade of Ethereum, was completed recently, and analysts predict a further fall in prices in coming weeks.

Prashant Kumar, Founder and CEO at weTrade said, "Ethereum completed a historic update with the Merge last week. With a move that big, there are bound to be teething troubles."

There was a certain amount of short-term selling that was also expected.

However, we are seeing a decline in all cryptocurrencies and not just Ethereum. The current decline cannot be associated with the Merge alone but global economic factors including inflation hikes in the US are key contributors to this, he adds.

Ethereum on Monday plunged 10% and was trading below $1,300 level. The global crypto market capitalisation on Monday evening stood at $935.39 billion, close to 3% fall over the previous day.

Naimish Sanghvi, Advisor at KoinX, said that the Merge is not the reason for a fall in Ethereum prices. "It could be because of two reasons- to acquire free ETHW tokens and to quickly scalp in the merge hype."

ETHW is a new cryptocurrency that was created post the merge.

"Now that the merge is over, there isn't much need for day traders to hold ETH," he said.

Legal action an "option" on Shaji's appointment: Bhutia

Former India captain Bhaichung Bhutia on Monday said he might explore legal options after the All India Football Federation turned down his request for a discussion on the appointment of Shaji Prabhakaran as secretary general. Bhutia had alleged that appointing a voter to a salaried post of the federation has an element of "bargaining".

Time to evaluate & find formula for T20 WC

India looking to get combinations right & also hopeful that individuals can step up in 6 T20Is ahead of marquee event

Final stretch

India and Australia will square-off in a three-match T20I series beginning in Mohali on Tuesday. A look...

FINISHING TOUCHES

The reigning world champions will be favourites on their home soil, which just shows how they have grown from strength to strength. While David Warner, Mitchell Starc, Marcus Stoinis and Mitchell Marsh are not part of the tour, they still have a formidable squad which includes Tim David, and Glenn Maxwell who will add firepower to the batting unit. Even in the absence of their star players, they still have a team to test the hosts.

PLENTY TO SOLVE

Starting from strike rate of their top three, India have a lot to ponder on. So expect them to use these matches to experiment with their combination and check what works and what doesn't. After Asia Cup debacle, these matches will once again show the hosts the mirror to see where they stand ahead of the T20 World Cup. In terms of the preparation for the big ticket event, India wouldn't have got a better opposition than this.

DOUBLE TROUBLE

KL Rahul and Rishabh Pant are two gifted players, but they continue to divide opinions. If the two can get going, then it would definitely put India back among as contenders for the World Cup title. But at the moment, they look far from it.

1ST T20I, LIVE ON STAR SPORTS @ 7.30 PM

Indian players warm up during a practice session ahead of the first T20I against Australia in Mohali, on Monday | PTI

VENKATA KRISHNA B @ Chennai

INDIA'S 15 for the T20 World Cup are ready and locked. Barring any late injuries and dip in form, it is hard to see any last-minute changes. Yet, there are still too many questions that need answers. Not just for the outside world, even from the team's point of view, they are yet to put all the pieces together which will make for a perfect picture.

And starting with three T20Is against Australia, beginning at the IS Bindra PCA Stadium in Mohali on Tuesday, they have all but six matches to find which formula will work for them at the T20 World Cup in Australia. Going by what unfolded in the Asia Cup in the UAE, playing only two outright pacers to go with all-rounder Hardik Pandya is all but ruled out. That, by the way, is the probably the only equation out of the way.

Of course, there are still talks and concerns about the strike-rate of the their top three, especially that of KL Rahul. The team management is yet to decide, if being a left-hander alone, is enough for Rishabh Pant to get a place in the XI. There are still questions over whether Dinesh Karthik, a player who is accustomed to playing a certain role in T20s — and has been picked specifically for the finisher's role when they could have easily accommodated another specialist batter — should be a sure starter in all the matches.

They are yet to decide on what kind of balance they need without compromising on batting depth and six bowling options. And the latter especially is the puzzle inside a puzzle, which is bound to eat lot of their time and possibly worth losing their sleep on. In this context, Axar Patel and Deepak Hooda — who at the moment seem to be outsiders in the XI — could play a pivotal role in finding the balance.

While India are yet to solve the puzzle, they would know much of their headache will heal the moment the top three play their role to perfection. With Virat Kohli's return to form, there is one less thing to worry about, skipper Rohit Sharma's message that they would treat the former as a third-choice opener has put the lens on KL Rahul.

Owing to injuries and rest, Rahul missed a major chunk of matches since the last T20 World Cup, a period where India have changed their batting approach. At the Asia Cup, Rahul still appeared far from being free-flowing and on the eve of the first T20I, admitted that he is working on improving his strike-rate.

"Look, it's obviously something that every player works towards. The roles that have been defined to each player in the last 10-12 months have been very clear. And the player understands what is expected of him, and the player is working towards it. Obviously, I am just working towards how I can better myself as an opening batter, and see how I can have the most impact for my team whenever I go out to play in the middle," Rahul said.

While there hasn't been an issue around it when chasing, India's issues with strike-rate stem when they are batting first. For example in the Asia Cup, against Pakistan and Sri Lanka in the Super Four's stage, when India batted first and posed a healthy total, it still appeared they left few more runs in the middle.

"No one is perfect. No one in that dressing room is perfect. Obviously, strike rates are taken at an overall basis. You never see when that batsman has played at a certain strike rate, whether it was important for him to play at 200 strike rate or if the team could have still won playing at 100-120 strike rate. So these are the things that not everybody analyses. Or if you look at it, it looks slow," Rahul said.

> The roles that have been defined to each player in the last 10-12 months have been very clear. And the player understands what is expected of him, and the player is working towards it. Obviously, I am just working towards how I can better myself as an opening batter, and see how I can have the most impact for my team whenever I go out to play in the middle. —KL Rahul, India

A perfect start as India set for Jhulan farewell

GOMESH S @ Chennai

THERE were reports. The players - Indian and English – when asked, were sharing their thoughts on her with an 'if'. The tributes had already started coming. But even as Jhulan Goswami took the field at Hove in the first ODI against England, her first since the World Cup game against Bangladesh in March, there was no official, categorical confirmation from her or the team that the series would be her swansong. That there was no pre-series press conference didn't help either.

However, India vice-captain Smriti Mandhana put everything to rest after smashing a sublime 91 on Sunday, helping India get a 1-0 lead in the three-match ODI series. "I want to say that this series is for Jhulu di (Jhulan Goswami), her bowling was amazing. All our efforts in this series will be for Jhulu di," the southpaw said after the match, confirming that one of the greatest cricketers India have ever produced would be playing the final international game at Lord's this week.

After the drubbing they got in the T20Is series, the first ODI at Hove was a near-perfect game for India. Everything, from the toss, went India's way. They had opted to chase, field three pacers as expected, and 39-year-old Goswami showed she's still got it with the figures of 10-2-20-1. There was the late away movement, the nip-backer that trapped Tammy Beaumont and all while clocking a pretty decent pace. At the other end, spinners Rajeshwari Gayakwad and Deepti Sharma tied up the run-rate, conceding just 73 runs in 20 overs with three wickets to show. They were sharp on the field too. If one were nit-pick, they couldn't clean up the lower-order as England's No 7-9 added 99 runs as the hosts finished with 227/7. The chase was as clinical as it could be with Mandhana, Yastika Bhatia, and Harmapreet Kaur scoring half-centuries.

If Mandhana finding her 'magic touch' when she landed in England for the Commonwealth Games was crucial for India, perhaps the most significant thing that happened to this team was the return of form from Harmanpreet. Having had a poor run in the ODIs since the 2017 World Cup, there were calls for her to be dropped just before this year's edition. But as seen in the past, the global event brought out the best in her. The 33-year-old scored 313 runs at an average of 53 and a strike rate of 91.64. What has stood out is how she has continued her good form since, recording her best cricketing year yet in a 13-year-long career. While it was expected that the ODI transition, in the batting department, would be smoother in the post-Mithali Raj era, they would want to replicate this dominance when they bat first as well. That said, there is very little to make of India's performance through the course of this series. After all, they do not have an ODI assignment till June 2023. Even the Women's Championship points aren't much of a factor, considering India would be directly qualifying as the hosts for the 2025 event.

This means, to quote Mandhana again, this series and whatever this team does in the next two games will be all about an all-time great of the sport and providing her a fitting farewell.

Real beat Atletico in spiky derby

AFP @ Madrid

Real Madrid's Federico Valverde (L) celebrates after scoring his team's 2nd goal | AP

RODRYGO and Federico Valverde scored to earn Real Madrid a 2-1 win over neighbours Atletico Madrid in a heated derby on Sunday to return to the top of La Liga. Carlo Ancelotti's side have started their title defence in perfect fashion, with a 100 per cent record from six games. This victory took Real two points above Barcelona, who had leapfrogged into first on Saturday.

The game was marred by racist chants aimed at Real Madrid's Brazilian forward Vinicius Junior outside the stadium before the game, sparked by criticism of his dancing goal celebrations and a subsequent debate over whether that criticism was racist. Fans also threw objects at Vinicius after a Real goal and aimed racist chants at him in the closing stages. After another Brazilian, Rodrygo, broke the deadlock in the 18th minute, he danced in celebration with Vinicius, to the chagrin of Atletico's enraged supporters. Some threw objects, including lighters, at the duo.

"Derbies are always important but today was a bit different for what happened during the week," said Rodrygo.

"We responded on the pitch, and I only talk for myself. I am very happy to play well and to score another goal."

Madrid were missing the injured Karim Benzema while the hosts picked Antoine Griezmann in the starting line-up for the first time this season, and they were on top in the opening stages. Spurred on by the rowdy atmosphere, Diego Simeone's side pressed high up the pitch and put Los Blancos on the back foot, with Felipe heading over and Dani Carvajal deflecting a Yannick Carrasco shot into the side netting.

Geoffrey Kondogbia launched an effort at goal which missed narrowly, but with Atletico dominant, Madrid landed a sucker-punch. Aurelien Tchouameni scooped a delightful pass over the defence and Rodrygo smartly dispatched it past Jan Oblak.

Real Madrid have now won all nine matches they have played this season across all competitions.

However, this will be a stiffer test for the India No 1. While there were 35 entries in South Korea, the World Championship is expected to witness a total of 120 starters with some of the top-ranked shooters including three-time Olympic champ Vincent Hancock looking to get a head start for Paris.

TRAP WATCH: Keep a close eye on Vivaan Kapoor, a 20-year-old from Mumbai. He had shot 122 (out of 125) in the qualification round during the Changwon World Cup to make the cut for ranking round. Also keep an eye on senior pro Prithviraj Tondaiman, who has been in the circuit for a long time. He had finished 13th during the aforementioned World Cup. Among women, Shreyasi Singh is someone who has been associated with the sport for a long time.

TOUGH ROAD AHEAD: Strictly going by recent numbers, shotgun is not India's strong suit with pistol and rifle counterparts overshadowing them. Also, given the fact that this is one of the first quota events, the competition is likely to be stiff.

CHANCE FOR YOUNG GUNS

The event will begin with junior events. A total of 12 Indians including the likes of Shapath Bhardwaj (trap) and Areeba Khan (skeet) will be taking part in the junior event. The championship will also feature team events. In the women's skeet (senior), Darshna Rathore and Raiza Dhillon (first senior event for the latter) will be lining up alongside some of the big guns.

16 A total of 16 quotas (4 each in four individual events -men's skeet, women's skeet, men's trap and women's trap) will be on offer.

3 This is the third quota event for Paris Olympics after European Championships (shotgun and pistol).

KEY DATES

September 26-28: Trap Men/Women Day 1, 2, 3

October 7-10: Skeet Men/Women Day 1, 2, 3

INDIANS IN ACTION

Men: Trap: Vivaan Kapoor, Prithviraj Tondaiman, Bhowneesh Mendiratta. Skeet: Mairaj Ahmad Khan, Anantjeet Singh Naruka, Gurjoat Khangura.

Women: Trap: Manisha Keer, Neeru, Shreyasi Singh. Skeet: Maheshwari Chauhan, Raiza Dhillon, Darshna Rathore.

Will appoint a neutral person to run IOA: SC

ENS/PTI @ New Delhi

IN a new development to the Indian Olympic Association saga, the Supreme Court on Monday said that it will appoint an independent person to run the administration of IOA and also directed the sports ministry to interact with the International Olympic Committee.

The SC had stayed the Delhi High Court order that put the IOA governance in the hands of Committee of Administrators after the sports ministry argued that it could lead to suspension due to "third party interference".

The Centre was represented by solicitor general Tushar Mehta who suggested that a former judge of the SC may be appointed for amending the constitution of the IOA and new electoral college be prepared and election held.

"The second suggestion is that the governance of administration may be entrusted to a neutral person who shall coordinate with the International Olympic Committee in terms of the letter dated September 8, 2022, of IOC. The IOC has proposed a joint meeting on September 27, 2022, in Lausanne and it is necessary that a person shall coordinate with IOC in close consultation. To facilitate this exercise, we have requested the Solicitor General and indicated that the secretary in the Ministry of Youth Affairs And Sports interact with the Director of Olympic Solidarity and NOC Relations in the International Olympic Committee and revert to this court on the next date of listing," the bench said.

Under-14 World title in kitty, Ilamparthi targets GM norm

ASHOK VENUGOPAL @ Chennai

AR Ilamparthi won the U14 open gold in the World youth chess championship at Mamaia, Romania. The 13-year old is studying in class 8th at Sree Sankara Bala Vidhyalaya Golden Jubilee School Pallikaranai. Ilamparthi, seeded nine signed off with a fourth straight victory to tally 9.5 points. After winning the first five rounds, Ilamparthi defeated Romania's Filip Magold (11th round) who was his ninth victim to reach 9.5 points. Ilamparthi who had an ELO rating 2269, got 57 more points after his win at Romania.

The studious and ambitious kid who idolises Gary Kasparov, despite jet lag took time off to chat with Express.

Excerpts:

How is to win the world Under-14 crown?
It feels very good to win the world U-14 championship title. Earlier, I finished 4th place in U-8 (Brazil) and also U-10 (China) where I missed podium by whisker. So this title is special for me.

What were your expectations before the tournament?
I did not expect anything before the tournament. I just wanted to enjoy the game.

You had to win the 11th round against Filip Magold of Romania to bag the title How did you outsmart him?
I had an equal position out of the opening and at some point he avoided a draw. He had time trouble and blundered.

AR Ilamparthi | EXPRESS

How was your preparation for the tournament and how was the pressure in the final stages?
I prepared well both before and during the tournament. I felt a bit of pressure, but I tried my best to focus on the game.

From which age are you playing and who was your first coach?
I started learning chess at the age of 4.5 years and started playing tournament as a 5-year old. My first coach was Mrs Ravichandran of Mount chess academy. The foundation was laid by Mount Chess Academy coaches Mrs Ravichandran, Ravichandran Sir, Sugumar Sir and Mari Arul Sir. Then I was molded by SA Krishna Sir from Dakshin Chess Academy where I learnt the game in depth of the chess

Who is your current coach and do you have a travelling coach?
When I was with SA Krishna sir, he used to travel with me for tournament. Yeah, but not much coaching while on tournament. Just used to give some tips. Yes it's good to have a travelling coach who knows our strength and weakness. Now I have been working with GM Shyam Sundar Sir for past six months. He has been instrumental in me winning the world U-14 title.

Do you like online chess tournaments and do you use chess engines?
I like online tournaments. Online tournaments are good as they help me improve my game and work on my weaknesses.

Next tournament you will be taking part and goal?
I will be participating the Chhattisgarh GM tournament which starts from Monday (19th Sep). My short term goal is to become a Grandmaster soon.

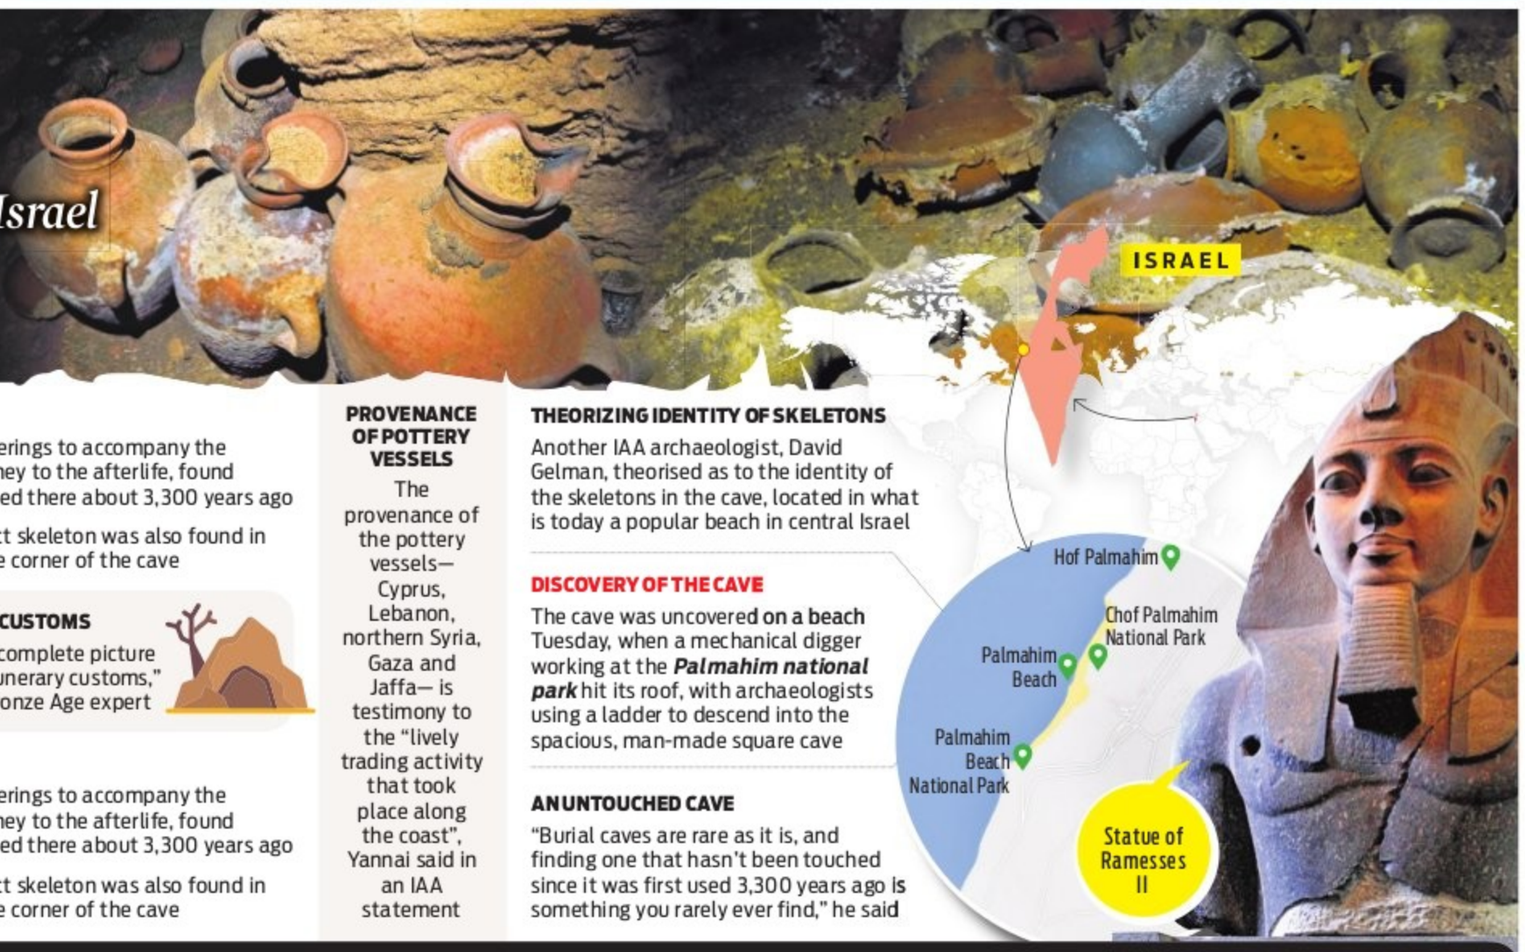
'Extremely rare' Rameses II-era burial cave found in Israel

Israeli archaeologists announced the "once-in-a-lifetime" discovery of a burial cave from the time of ancient Egyptian Pharaoh Rameses II, filled with dozens of pottery pieces and bronze artefacts



ANCIENT POTTERY VESSELS

In a video released by the Israel Antiquities Authority, gobsmacked archaeologists shine flashlights on dozens of pottery vessels in a variety of forms and sizes, dating back to the reign of the ancient Egyptian king who died in 1213 BC

Bowls—some of them painted red, some containing bones—chalices, cooking pots, storage jars, lamps and bronze arrowheads or spearheads could be seen in the cav

BURIAL OFFERINGS

The objects were burial offerings to accompany the deceased on their last journey to the afterlife, found untouched since being placed there about 3,300 years ago

At least one relatively intact skeleton was also found in two rectangular plots in the corner of the cave

BRONZE AGE FUNERARY CUSTOMS

"The cave may furnish a complete picture of the Late Bronze Age funerary customs," said Eli Yannai, an IAA Bronze Age expert

BURIAL OFFERINGS

The objects were burial offerings to accompany the deceased on their last journey to the afterlife, found untouched since being placed there about 3,300 years ago

At least one relatively intact skeleton was also found in two rectangular plots in the corner of the cave

PROVENANCE OF POTTERY VESSELS

The provenance of the pottery vessels—Cyprus, Lebanon, northern Syria, Gaza and Jaffa— is testimony to the "lively trading activity that took place along the coast", Yannai said in an IAA statement

THEORIZING IDENTITY OF SKELETONS

Another IAA archaeologist, David Gelman, theorised as to the identity of the skeletons in the cave, located in what is today a popular beach in central Israel

DISCOVERY OF THE CAVE

The cave was uncovered on a beach Tuesday, when a mechanical digger working at the Palmahim national park hit its roof, with archaeologists using a ladder to descend into the spacious, man-made square cave

AN UNTOUCHED CAVE

"Burial caves are rare as it is, and finding one that hasn't been touched since it was first used 3,300 years ago is something you rarely ever find," he said

REIGN OF RAMESES II The findings date to the reign of Rameses II, who controlled Canaan, a territory that roughly encompassed modern-day Israel and the Palestinian territories

GERMAN CENTRAL BANK SEES MULTIPLYING SIGNS OF RECESSION

Expects it to be prolonged; to bring the soaring electricity and fuel prices down, Chancellor Olaf Scholz will visit Saudi Arabia and seek energy supplies

ENERGY

FRANKFURT: The German central bank said on Monday it was increasingly likely that Europe's largest economy would shrink for a "prolonged" period as Russia throttled energy supplies to the continent.

"The signs of a recession for the German economy are multiplying," the Bundesbank said in its monthly report, warning of a "broad-based and prolonged decline in economic output". The likely slump was above all down to "supply-side constraints", namely reduced deliveries of energy in the wake of the Russian invasion of Ukraine.

Moscow has dwindled supplies of gas to Europe and kept the Nord Stream pipeline shut since the end of August, heaping pressure on Germany's economy. Germany had been highly reliant on Russian energy imports to power its industry and heat its homes, with 55% of its gas coming from Russia before the outbreak of the war.

German GDP grew fractionally by 0.1% between April and June, but an increasing number of economic indicators, such as business and consumer confidence, have begun to flash red. The economy would likely shrink "slightly" in the third quarter of the year, the Bundesbank said, before a "marked" drop over the last three months of 2022 and the beginning of 2023.

The Russian gas supply stop meant that the situation on gas markets was "very tense", it said.

Germany could "avoid formal rationing" of the fuel, but necessary reductions in consumption would lead companies to limit or pause production, the central bank predicted. The impact was unlikely to be as bad as an "adverse scenario" sketched out by the Bundesbank in June, which foresaw the economy shrinking by 3.2 % in 2023, it said.

"The outlook is however extremely uncertain," the Bundesbank said.

The reduction in gas supplies has sent prices for the fuel and for electricity rocketing, spurring decades-high inflation rates. Consumer prices rose at a 7.9% rate in Germany in August, well above the two-per cent target of the European Central Bank.

Scholz to visit Saudi

Chancellor Olaf Scholz will visit Saudi Arabia and meet Saudi Crown Prince Mohammed bin Salman as part of a Gulf trip, his spokesman said on Monday, as Germany rushes to secure energy supplies.

Scholz, whose two-day trip next weekend will also take him to Qatar and the United Arab Emirates, becomes the latest Western leader to meet with the crown prince.

Bin Salman is being courted as Europe and its allies urgently seek fresh sources of fossil fuels. Scholz, accompanied by a business delegation, will visit Saudi Arabia on Saturday, where he will meet with the crown prince and—if his health permits it—King Salman, government spokesman Steffen Hebestreit said.

He did not go into detail about the reasons for Scholz's Gulf visit but said he would be "very surprised" if the topic of energy was not discussed.

On Sunday, Scholz will head first to the UAE and meet with President Sheikh Mohamed bin Zayed Al-Nahyan.

Economy Minister Robert Habeck said Scholz would sign contracts there related to liquefied natural gas.

In the afternoon, the chancellor will hold talks with Qatari Emir Sheikh Tamim bin Hamad Al-Thani.

Typhoon hits Japan, 1 killed

NATURE

One person was confirmed dead in Japan on Monday after Typhoon Nanmadol slammed into the country, injuring dozens, but authorities downgraded warnings as the storm weakened after landfall. The storm system, which made landfall in southern Kyushu's Kagoshima on Sunday night, was moving off the western coast of Japan by Monday. Nearly six million people were still under evacuation warnings and authorities said in some areas "even a tiny amount of additional rainfall" could trigger flooding. In Miyazaki prefecture, some areas saw more rainfall in 24 hours than they receive in all of September. A man in his sixties was confirmed dead after being found in a submerged car.

No new flood deaths in Pak

DISASTER

Pakistan said on Monday there have been no fatalities for the past three days from the deadly floods that engulfed the country since mid-June, a hopeful sign that the nation is turning a corner on the disaster. Since the start of the unprecedented monsoon rains and flooding, 1,545 people have died and thousands more have been injured. The floods have affected 33 million people, leaving many homeless. Swelling waters have swept away villages, roads and bridges, and at one point inundated a third of Pakistan's territory. In the aftermath of the devastation, doctors and medical workers are battling the increase in waterborne diseases and other infections.

European Commission under fire

CLIMATE

A dozen environmental groups are starting legal challenges against the European Union's executive branch in a bid to stop the inclusion of natural gas and nuclear power generation in the bloc's list of sustainable activities. European Union lawmakers in July voted to add natural gas and nuclear to the list, backing a proposal from the European Commission that has been drawing criticism and accusations of greenwashing. ClientEarth, WWF's European Policy Office, Transport & Environment (T&E), and BUND said they have asked for an internal review of decision to include gas. European Commission has 22 weeks to reply and the groups say they will take the action to Court of Justice of EU if the executive arm refuses to reconsider. They said "gas is a potent fossil fuel that threatens European energy security and has led to sky-high energy prices across Europe."

Fiona wreaks havoc in Puerto Rico

HURRICANE

SAN JUAN: Hurricane Fiona smashed into Puerto Rico, knocking out the US island territory's power while dumping torrential rain and wreaking catastrophic damage before making landfall in the Dominican Republic on Monday.

Landslides, blocked roads, fallen trees and power lines, as well as a collapsed bridge in the town of Utuado in the central mountainous region, were part of the destruction already caused by Fiona, Governor Pedro Pierluisi told an evening press conference.

The storm carried maximum sustained winds of 144 kilometres per hour as it hit the Dominican Republic, the US National Hurricane Center (NHC) said on Twitter.

"Life-threatening flash and urban flooding is likely for eastern portions of the Dominican Republic," the NHC said in its latest advisory at 5:00 am local time.

Ahead of Fiona's arrival in the Dominican Republic, President Luis Abinader suspended work on Monday and the island placed 13 of its 32 provinces, located to the north and east, on red alert ahead of the storm making landfall.

UAE to launch first lunar rover in Nov

SPACE

DUBAI: The United Arab Emirates will launch its first lunar rover in November, the mission manager said on Monday.

Hamad Al Marzooqi told The National, a state-linked newspaper, that the "Rashid" rover, named for Dubai's ruling family, would be launched from the Kennedy Space Center in Florida sometime between November 9 and November 15. The exact date will be announced next month, he said.

The rover is to be launched aboard a Falcon 9 SpaceX rocket and deposited on the moon by a Japanese ispace lander sometime in the month of March.

"We've finished with the testing of the rover and we are happy with the results," Al Marzooqi was quoted as saying.

"The rover has been integrated with the lander and it is ready for launch."

The lunar mission is part of the UAE's broader strategy to become a major player in the field of space exploration.

If the moon mission succeeds, the UAE and Japan would join the ranks of only the United States, Russia and China as nations that have put a spacecraft on the surface of the moon.

Already, an Emirati satellite is orbiting Mars to study the red planet's atmosphere.

The UAE partnered with Japan's Mitsubishi Heavy Industries to launch that probe, which swung into Mars' orbit in February 2021.

The craft named 'Amal', Arabic for Hope, had reached the end of its seven-month, 300-million-mile journey and had begun circling the red planet, where it started to gather data on atmosphere of Mars.

The Rashid rover is expected to study the lunar surface, mobility on the moon's surface and how different surfaces interact with lunar particles.

The 10 kilogram rover will carry two high-resolution cameras, a microscopic camera, a thermal imagery camera, a probe and other devices.

The UAE has plans to develop the Middle East's most advanced commercial satellite to produce high-resolution satellite imagery.

It has also set the ambitious goal of building a human colony on Mars by 2117.

LOOKING INTO THE PAST

Locked Up: The prison labour that built business empires

HISTORY

More than 150 years ago, a prison complex known as the Lone Rock stockade operated at one of the biggest coal mines in Tennessee.

It was powered largely by African American men who had been arrested for minor offenses if they committed any crime at all. Women and children, some as young as 12, were sent there as well.

The work, dangerous and sometimes deadly, was their punishment. The state was leasing these prisoners out to private companies for a fee, in a practice known all across the South as convict leasing. In states like Texas, Florida, Georgia and Alabama, prisoners were also used to help build railroads, cut timber, make bricks, pick cotton and grow sugar on plantations.

What is Convict Leasing?

Convict leasing was a new form of slavery that started after the Civil War and went on for decades across the South. States —and companies— got rich by arresting mostly Black men and then forcing them to work for major companies.

The 13th Amendment, passed after the Civil War, banned slavery and involuntary servitude. But it made an exception for people convicted of a crime, offering legal cover for convict leasing.

Tennessee and many other states adopted similar language in their constitutions that still exists today.

What Was The Lone Rock Stockade?

The Lone Rock stockage operated in Tracy City, Tennessee for more than 25 years. The prisoners lived in cramped, unsanitary conditions. Built to hold 200 people at a time, the prison sometimes held 600.

The men risked their lives every day above ground too, manning fiery, dome-shaped coke ovens used in the iron-making process.

They were helping Tennessee, Coal, Iron and Railroad get rich.

How Did Prison Population Change After Emancipation?

The racial makeup of prison populations changed almost overnight after the Civil War. In Tennessee, during slavery less than 5% of the prisoners were Black. In 1866, after emancipation, that number jumped to 52%. And by 1891 it had skyrocketed to 75%.

What Are Black Codes?

Black codes are laws passed by states that targeted African Americans for minor crimes. In Tennessee, people were sentenced up to five years of hard labour in the coal mine for having interracial relationships.

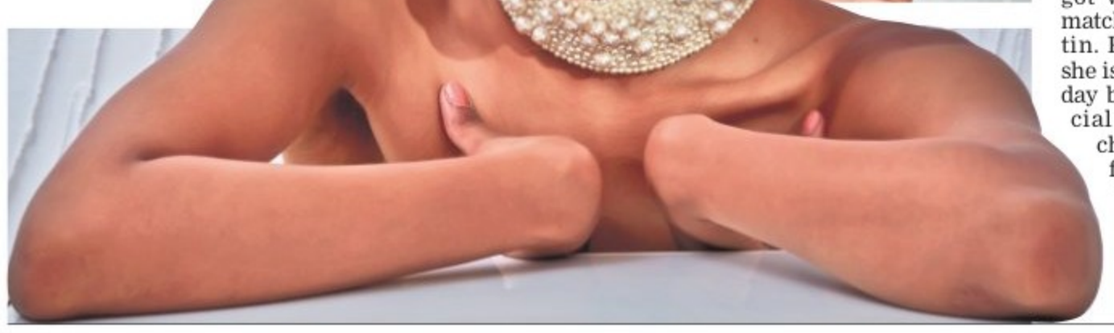
LOVE IT OR HAT (E) IT?

Queen Elizabeth II was laid to rest on Monday. Of the many things, the monarch was also known for her hat collection. If the Queen was your style icon, then check out this city-based model's thrift store which offers vintage hats



MONIKA MONALISA

LIKE many, Irene Augustin, a model who runs an online thrift store Rosy Auntie, is fascinated by royal hats. So much so, she has come up with a collection of vintage hats from across the globe, most of them being from London. The current hats on display (₹4,000 onwards) are side headgears which are light to accessorise.

While she has been collecting hats from across the globe, her first collection for sale is from England, where Royals have popularised this particular accessory. However, she says it was the derby culture that got her interested in hats. "Last time when I was in London, I went to a derby and saw a lot of attendees wearing hats. In Bengaluru too, I know a lot of women flaunt flamboyant hats. So I just got a couple of them to see how it works in the local market," says Augustin.

For the first batch she brought home, she opted for subtle colours. "I was keenly observing the fashion scene at the derbies in Bengaluru, so I got whites and creams that match any outfit," says Augustin. Personally a fan of hats, she is ready to wear them every day but reserves them for special occasions to retain the charm. Currently in France for the Paris Fashion Week, she has been looking out for hats in antique stores which will be an interesting addition to her collection.

Augustin started Rosy Auntie (which goes by the same Instagram handle) with a wide collection of ties. The name might sound unusual for a store but there's a sweet story behind it. "I have an aunt by the same name. When I was younger, she would travel across the world for work and in return get some of the coolest gifts for Christmas. The clothes used to be so good that people always asked where we got them. Now, I do the same – travel for work and pick up gifts for family and friends," shares Augustin.

5,000 hats over a 70-year reign

- Queen Elizabeth II was laid to rest on Monday, in the presence of her children and grandchildren. Known for her classic style, the monarch was popular for her collection of hats. She is said to have had 5,000 different hats during her 70-year-reign.
- Hats were an essential accessory for the Queen right from childhood, when she was usually seen in bonnets and berets. During her teenage and young adulthood, she was often found coordinating with her younger sister Princess Margaret, and the Queen Mother.
- The Queen, who was regular at Royal Ascot, the annual derby, was always seen in a spectacular collection of hats. However, she missed this year's event. While floral, lacy, and bow hats were her style, the monarch was also seen in tam o'shanter hats, turban hats, and pillbox hats during her royal visits to different countries.

When Festivity Never Ends & Diversity Forms Rich Tapestry

At times, there is no limit to festivity. And when the festival is Onam, the celebrations continue for as long as the heart is filled. Highlighting this feeling of festivity that does not end has been the Onam celebrations at Bharatiya City in Thannisandra by Nikoo 2 Malayali Welfare Association.

The harvest festival of Kerala, also called the festival of rain flowers, is a ten-day long festival celebrated with fervor across Kerala. But what began on 30th August and went on till 8th September has continued even to this day, what with the entire Bharatiya City, one of the largest integrated smart mega city, joining in the celebrations.

Home to diverse cultures from across India and even abroad, the continued festivity has been an example of excitement, joy and participative spirit of diverse individuals.

It also showcased the popularity of the festival, with people from other states actively participating in all activities — a true display of unity in diversity. The mammoth city has turned into a vibrant riot of colours, music, aroma of flowers and of delicious delicacies.

And what has been exceptional about participation is that not just Keralites, but residents belonging to others states too participated in all activities. Right from various cultural programmes which are typical of Kerala, to traditional musical performances, Onam Pookalam or Onam rangolis made with flowers, enticing thiruvathirakali dance, children's activities, sportive competitions including tug of war and sack race, the avatar of King Mahabali, the Asura emperor who is an integral part of the festival giving enough photo opportunities, and of course the expansive kerala sadya served on plantain leaves featuring a variety of dishes...the celebrations truly reflect a fact that the grandeur of Onam festivity is on a much higher scale outside of Kerala itself!

FIT BIT

EKA PADA DHANURASANA

(One legged bow pose preparation knees on floor)

This is a preparatory pose for Eka Pada Dhanurasana Preparation and before going into the Dhanurasana (Bow Pose). The practice of this simple variation helps to open the hips, lower back, and legs gradually before going into full form.

STEPS

- Lie down on your belly, in Advasana.
- Extend the arms above your head, and rest the chin on the floor. Stay here and connect to your breathing for about 3-4 breaths.
- Lengthen the legs and bring the hips, heels and big toes close to each other, as you stretch from the hips downwards.
- Inhale, bend your right leg, flexing the right knee. Exhale completely. Inhaling, take the right arm and as you rotate the shoulder, grab the right ankle with your right hand. Exhale completely.
- Holding your right ankle, inhale again and lift the right knee gently off the floor, pulling the right foot towards your upper back as you exhale.
- Use the left arm strength, grounding it at the palms and armpits for better support, pushing the chest and abdomen to the floor, inhale. Exhale, settle down, lift the right knee higher.
- Then, feel the complete stretch on the arms, shoulders, ankles and quadriceps, as naturally breath in.
- Hold it for about 3-4 breaths, initially.
- Finally, release the pose and come back to Advasana. Rest for about 2 breaths.
- Repeat the practice on the other side.
- Release and relax completely in Makarasana (Crocodile Pose).

BENEFITS

- Stretches and strengthens lower quadriceps and hamstrings.
- Gain better flexibility while opening the shoulders to grab the foot.
- Adds to a progress in the range of motion at joints of knees, ankles, and wrists.
- Prepare the body for a peak pose like Dhanurasana.
- Plays a crucial role to make coordination easy and smooth.
- Make a great transition into the peak pose practice.
- Gives the confidence to trust the body to go into the full practice.
- It is a part of the healing yoga sequence for students during post-surgery of the lower back, hips, or knee.
- With all kinds of swimming, running or rock climbing, this asana can be included in cooling down sequence.

LIMITATIONS

Those with injuries to the rib cage, hips, knees, ankles, wrists, or shoulders or recovering from surgeries in the abdominal area, hips or chest should avoid. Pregnant women should avoid.

ELECTRIC ATMOSPHERE

LEKSHMI C PILLAI

THE world is moving towards Electric Vehicles, slowly but steadily. Petrol-diesel or ICE (Internal Combustion Engines) vehicles will surely be there for some more decades to come; but as most developed and developing countries have decided to go green, the focus is on EVs.

On September 8, World EV Day, many companies announced their near- and mid-term goals. In India, the largest chunk of EVs are two-wheelers; mainly scooters.

There are 'innumerable' companies that bring out low-speed scooters that don't need registration, road tax or driving licence to ride. Some serious players even bring out powerful electric scooters and bikes that match their petrol counterparts in performance, quality and price.

At the same time, the country is also keenly looking at the electric car market. As India wants to reduce dependence on imported petroleum fuels, the car market should move towards EVs.

Tata Motors has been at the forefront of the electric revolution in India. With two models Nexon EV and Tigor EV in the mass market price segments, the company enjoys a huge advantage over others. On EV Day, the company announced some affordable EV models too.

The TIAGO EV, expected to come out soon, will be the cheapest electric car in the country. Many expect the price point to be near ₹10 lakh. At present, over 40,000 Tata EVs are plying on the road.

Mahindra also unveiled its electric compact SUV, the XUV400. Though based on 4-metre XUV300, the EV is longer.

A single electric motor producing 150hp, powered by a 39.4kWh battery is the heart of XUV400. The company claims a range of 456km. It is a little bigger than that of the Nexon EV. The price can also go a bit higher.

The other volume player in the EV market is MG Motor India. MG ZS EV is a mid-size SUV with premium features.

The recent entrant BYD, a Chinese company has created a niche in India by bringing the first electric MPV. It delivered 450 e6 MPVs across the country on EV day. With a 580-litre boot space and a claimed range of more than 500 km, e6 became very popular in a short time.

Tesla, the global icon of the EV revolution, has not yet reached the Indian market.

But in the premium or luxury market too, auto makers are making moves.

Korean siblings KIA and Hyundai are bringing two premium models; EV6 and Ioniq, respectively. European players — Mercedes Benz, BMW, Audi and Volvo — are also bringing many electric models. Merc has even started assembling luxury electric sedans in India.

However, India has a long way to go in the EV segment. Concerns are many — charging infrastructure, affordable pricing (on par with petrol/diesel models), long-term reliability, range, resale value and many more.

In Kerala too, EVs are in demand. Vinod P, sales head of Coastline Garages (MG dealer) says, "We see high demand for our EV ZS in Kerala. It is popular among professionals. Some 700 bookings from Kerala are pending at the moment".

According to Nithin Shah Jose, business head of Malayalam Tata (Tata Motors dealer), a section of society is now increasingly conscious of environmental issues and they are interested in EVS. "EVs are bought as the second or third car of some families. Tata Motors have a share of 85 per cent of the national EV market. It has 87 per cent per cent market share in Kerala," he adds.

IT'S THE FUTURE

Globally, the auto industry does not doubt that the future is electric and there is no going back. Investments in EV technologies are seeing an exponential rise. As EVs have fewer moving parts, wear and tear, periodic replacement of parts etc are considerably low. Coming to fuel, electricity comes at a fraction of the cost of Petrol or diesel. Adding to that, governments across the world are encouraging the EV industry through subsidies. India is moving towards enforcing Corporate Average Fuel Efficiency (CAFE) norms. These norms assign company-specific average mileage targets. The idea is to reduce carbon emissions. As emissions increase, mileage decreases. So the companies have to increase mileage by various means. That is why car companies are keen to bring out fuel-efficient petrol/diesel engines, hybrid models and EVs. If a company fails to meet the CAFE target, the government will impose a fine. Reducing and finally stopping dependency on fossil fuels, mainly imported from the west Asian countries, is another important target of many countries.

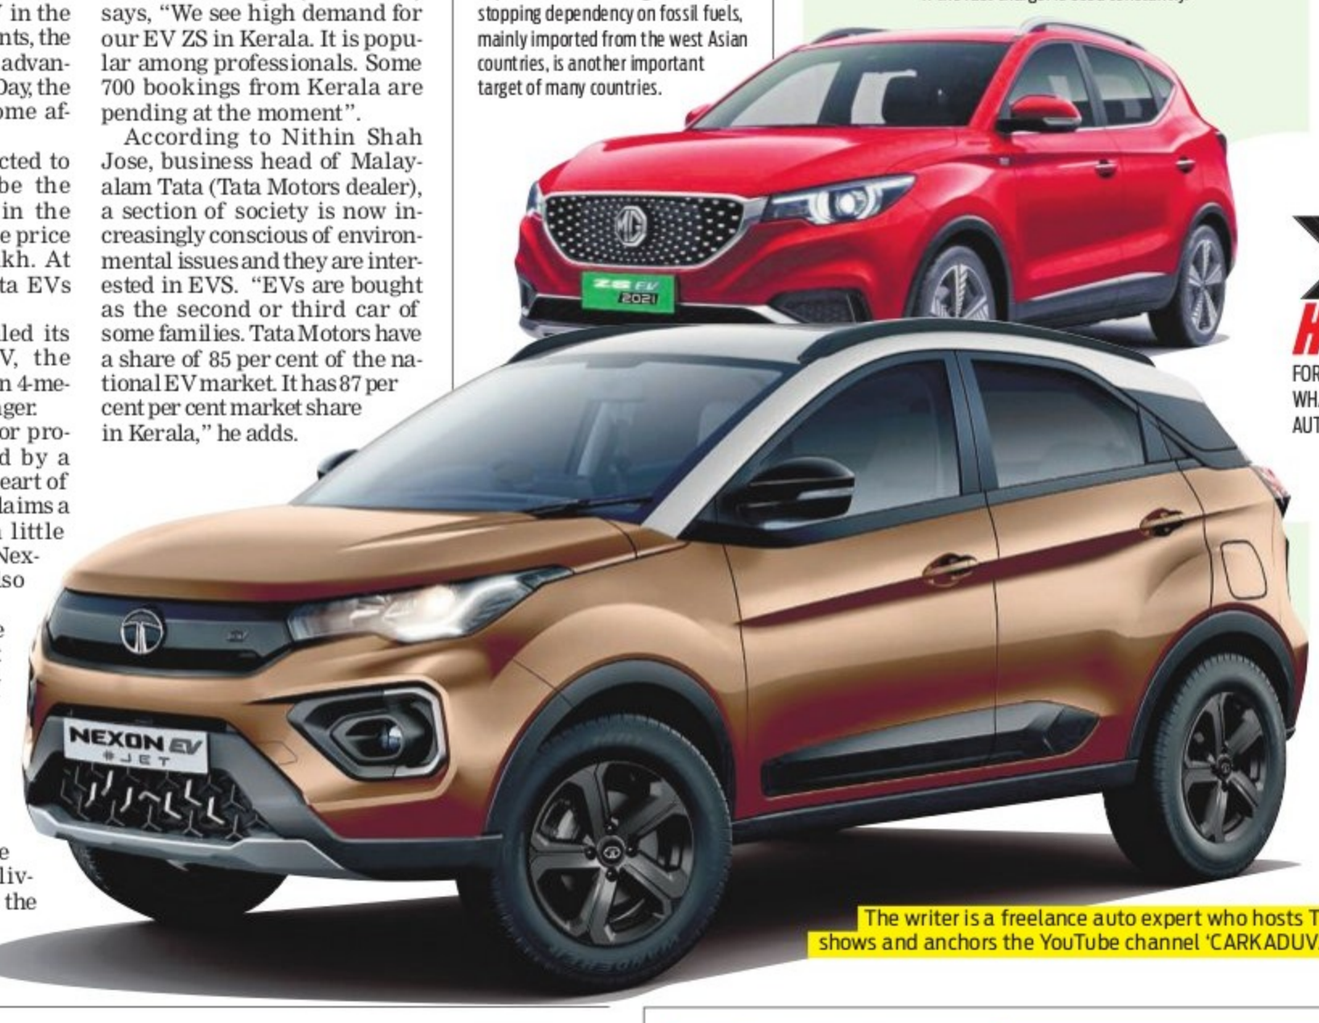
WHAT NOT TO DO

- Do not attempt to repair or service the charging station and gun yourself – may result in injury.
- Do not operate the charging station and gun if they or the supply cable are visibly damaged.
- Adult supervision is mandatory while charging.
- Ensure all plugs and cables are free of moisture before using the charging gun. Never connect the charging gun to the mains with wet or moist hands or when the charging gun is wet.
- The charger generates electromagnetic waves that can seriously impact medical electric devices such as an implantable cardiac pacemaker in a person. When a person has an implant like the one mentioned above, make sure to ask the medical team and the manufacturer whether charging your EV will impact the operation of the medical electric device implant. In such cases, do not go near the vehicle when it is charging.
- Ensure the charging gun is always stored in a safe place. Do not expose it to rain or wet conditions. Avoid pouring or dripping water or other liquids over it.
- Fast charging can be done wherever the fast/DC charging station is available. A user can charge at high speeds at public charging stations.

NOTE: Battery performance and durability can deteriorate if the fast charger is used constantly.

Precautions

- Do not expose the vehicle to extreme temperatures for an extended period.
- Do not leave the vehicle uncharged for more than 14 days.
- Do not use the Li-ion battery for any other purpose.
- Though fast charging is convenient, normal charging once a month is recommended.
- Battery capacity may decrease when the vehicle is stored in high/low temperatures.
- Charging gun should always be stored in a safe place. Make sure to not expose it to wet weather



HERE COMES HYBRID!

Interestingly, another major step towards electrification became a discussion point recently – hybrid technology. Toyota and Maruti Suzuki jointly developed two SUVs that run on petrol engines along with electric motors. This pure hybrid (strong hybrid) technology is more user-friendly as it does not require external charging. The battery garners electric charge by a generator motor system that converts kinetic energy to electrical energy – the battery will get charged while the car is on the move. These models – Toyota Urban Cruiser Hyryder and Maruti Suzuki Grand Vitara – can be run as pure electric cars at slow speed and in city traffic. These will help reduce petrol consumption by a considerable amount. As claimed by the companies, a litre can fetch nearly 28 kilometres. However, hybrid cars don't have any tax incentives. They are taxed at 43 per cent GST, while EVs attract only 5 per cent. They don't have any rebates on road tax either. Hybrid vehicles have benifts of both the petrol and electric cars. As there is petrol, one doesn't have to worry about range or search for a charging point. At the same time, carbon emission is low.

CHALLENGES

RANGE AND CHARGING

EVs have a limited range on every full charge. While refuelling petrol or diesel cars takes just minutes, EVs take at least an hour at a fast charging centre. On a slow charging point, it can take up to half a day to recharge. For long trips, it is not practical to use an EV.

INFRA: Though different agencies are working on installing public charging stations, we cannot expect it in every nook and corner of the country. The complexity and time taken to charge are also annoying.

BATTERY: The life and efficiency of the battery are other concerns. The efficiency of Lithium-ion batteries will come down gradually. Though companies offer an 8-year warranty, that is for manufacturing defects. There are a specific number of charge-recharge cycles for a battery, after which it may be replaced. But replacing a battery pack may not be practical, as it costs around one-third of a new car's price.

COST: If one uses a domestic electric connection, the bills will face a steep increase. In that case, the economic advantage over ICE may be taken away. Otherwise, one has to install a solar power plant or should connect to some other renewable energy source.

SAFETY: Incidents of fire involving EVs became an area of big concern recently. Extreme weather conditions warrant extra care for EVs. Battery packs usually have high protection against water, dust, fire and nail penetration. But owners should ensure good care and maintenance of the vehicle as it contains a high voltage system and wiring. The charging points should also be foolproof.

LAST week, I came across a serious post written by a friend of mine. Father of two girls, Santhosh lives in Bengaluru and is known for his sense of humour, witty posts and social commentaries. He had written on how he was taken for a ride by an online tutoring company that made tall claims. After paying a hefty sum as fee, he realised that most of the promises made were far from truth. Many parents responded to his post and shared their own bitter experiences over the same issue. The number of comments led me to think that if one post could elicit such a massive response just from a very small chunk of social media users, there must be so many others around.

Living in a metro, while we get to savour the benefits of better transport, entertainment options, healthcare, networking, eateries, job opportunities, we also have to face civic issues, high crime rate, pollution, high cost of living, lack of space, materialist outlook etc. Especially when it comes to the middle class, every rupee spent comes under scrutiny and in urban Indian households, education is an important investment. Santhosh said he sought the tutoring service after much deliberation over the quality of online classes during the pandemic.

I relate to him, as I have had first-hand experience regarding this problem. While many parents were dissatisfied about the quality of teaching itself, there were several other issues such as controlling a bunch of children with a very short attention span, while attempting to push the lesson into their minds. There was also the matter of teachers unable to pay individual attention to students, as well as lack of creative learning activities. All these facts were utilised by many companies offering online tutoring. I myself paid for educational material from one such company a few years ago, only to realise that it only prompted students to spend more time online, which has proven detrimental to their health. More children are reportedly visiting ophthalmologists complaining of eye-related issues, which experts attribute to high usage of mobile phones.

What our children need from schools today are – more hands-on learning, outdoor activities and applied disciplines. While school-hunting recently, a former colleague of mine told me how disappointed she was to see that many did not even have a proper playground. At one such school, she was openly told that they did not need one, as they stressed only on studies. "I just got up and ran away!" she told me. Another parent had written about his toddler in kindergarten being burdened with exams, report cards etc.

Speaking about modern education system, Dalai Lama once said: "We pay attention to brain development, but the development of warm-heartedness we take for granted." My mother, an educator herself with four decades of experience, used to tell me she always wondered who would actually succeed if the grading system in our schools was to be completely eliminated. Today, I wonder the same.

'A CHANCE IN FILMS CAN GIVE CELEBRITY KIDS RECOGNITION, NOT A TICKET TO SUCCESS'

says Tharun Kishore Sudhir, who believes that the experience the cast got in Guru Sishyaru will boost their confidence

A still from the film

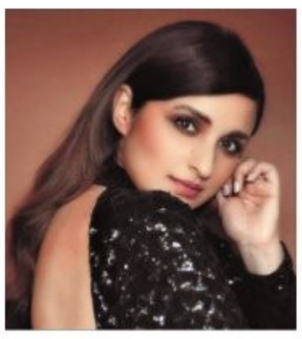
A SHARADHAA

MAKING Guru Shishyaru was not an ordinary feat for the team. The sports drama directed by Jadeshaa K Hampi explores the relationship between the Guru (PT Teacher) and his Shishyaru (students) on screen through the popular rural sport kho-kho. Actor Sharan also bankrolls the film, Tharun Kishore Sudhir is the project's creative head and co-producer. The team has gone an extra mile to capture the real essence of the sport and cast 11 talented kids, that include children of celebrities: Hruday (Son of Sharan), Ekanth (Son of Prem), Surya (Son of Ravi Shankar Gowda), Harshith (Son of Naveen Krishna), Rakshak (Son of Bullet Prakash), and Manikanta Nayak (Son of MLA Raju Gowda). The other young talents chosen through auditions are Asif Mulla, Sambhashiva, Sandesh, Sagar, Rudragowda, Anup Ramana, and Amith B. All the kids were subjected to rigorous training for a year under the guidance of a 40-year-old organization -- Young Pioneers Sports Club in Bengaluru, by trainer BR Kumar and the team.

"We had the vision to make sure the kids deliver their best in the sport and acting through this training," says Jadeshaa K Hampi, who was himself part of the training camp. "Even Sharan underwent personal training for 4 months from an experienced player and teacher B V Nandakumar, to fit his part as the coach."

Tharun Kishore Sudhir, says that bringing in celebrity kids was not commercial viability as the film already has star actor Sharan as the face of the film. "It is a coincidence that a section of the cast are star kids. This film gives them recognition, but it will not give them a ticket to success." The team ensured that the star kids and others chosen through auditions were treated equally. "They had to work as a team on and off the shoot. I believe the Guru Sishyaru experience will boost their confidence level and they all lived to the true spirit of this game," he adds.

The film, set in the 90s also starring Nishvika Naidu, Suresh Heblikar, Dattanna, and Apurva Kasaravalli will be out in theatres on September 23.



Code Name: Tiranga to release on this date

CE FEATURES

PARINEETI Chopra and singer Harrdy Sandhu's upcoming film Code Name: Tiranga will be released in theatres on October 14. The film is directed by Ribhu Dasgupta.

Parineeti will be playing a RAW agent in the espionage action-thriller. The film will tell the story of a spy on a mission for her nation in a race against time where sacrifice is her only choice. Code Name: Tiranga will also feature Sharad Kelkar, Rajit Kapur, Dibyendu Bhattacharya, Shishir Sharma, Sabyasachi Chakraborty and Deesh Mariwala.

Looking forward to his next to hit the big screens, Ribhu said, "I am glad to announce my next film Code Name: Tiranga; set to release in cinemas this October 14. I hope the audiences enjoy this action entertainer which talks about a soldier's sacrifice in the line of duty for her nation."

The film is presented by Gulshan Kumar, T-Series Film and Reliance Entertainment and produced by Bhushan Kumar, Reliance Entertainment, Film Hangar and Vivek B. Agrawal.

Dhananjay's 26th to be helmed by Telugu director Eashvar Karthic

The bilingual film made in Telugu and Kannada will be a multistarrer, and Daali will be seen sharing screen space with Satyadev

CE FEATURES

DHANANJAY, who made his Tollywood debut with Bhairava Geethe, which was also released in Kannada, has signed his next film. He has joined Penguin director Eashvar Karthic's upcoming directorial, which also marks the actor's 26th project. The multi-starrer also has Telugu actor Satyadev.

The yet-to-be-titled film made in Telugu and Kannada is billed to be a crime-action drama and will be the first production venture of the Old Town Pictures banner.

An official announcement about the project was made by the director and actors, who shared details along with a poster on their respective social media accounts. The poster has illustrations of horse, guns, bullets, and currency notes. While Dhananjay's character has a grey theme, Satyadev's poster is made with a red base. Speaking to CE about his new project, Dhananjay said, that he is looking forward to working with the Penguin director, Eashvar Karthic. "The director has come up with a fantastic script, and I am glad that he wanted me to join this project. The narration was given to me, while I was shooting for Hoysala, and we instantly got connected. I will be playing the lead in this multistarrer and looking forward to sharing screen space with Satyadev. The shooting for the project will begin soon, and I will be joining the team in December," he says.

The film will be produced by Bala Sundaram and Dinesh Sundaram with Manikantan Krishnamachary as the cinematographer. Charan Raj, the music director of films like Godhi Banna Sadharna Mykattu, Tagaru, and Salaga is the film's composer and Anil Krish is the editor. Dialogues for the film will be penned by Meeraqh.

Meanwhile, Dhananjay, who was recently seen in Monsoon Raaga, is currently shooting for Hoysala. He is also looking forward to the release of his much anticipated pan-India film, Head Bush, which is slated to hit the theatres on October 21.

Dhananjay

Satyadev

An almost there edge-of-the-seat thriller

CE FEATURES

DO spirits exist? Well, that's a difficult question to answer. And when a movie tries to explore the complex nature of the unnatural, it is hard for the makers to make it the horror elements grounded and believable. Debutant director Vinay Yadunandan's Kapala manages to achieve this to a certain extent.

The intriguing storyline revolves around a Kapala (skull) and two siblings living with a friend in an apartment. The younger brother, Sanju (Aryan Chaudhary) unexpectedly gets trapped in a fatal problem. After digging deep into the root cause of the problem, the elder brother, Prashanth (Abhimanyu Prajwal) and his friend realise the reason behind the chaos is a camera picked up by his brother. Prashanth traces down the person who handed the camera to his brother and the people in the photo, keeping the curiosity meter ticking through the second half. There are also ample doses of horror, love and revenge.

The director has focussed only on the horror-thriller angle and there are no distractions in the form of comedy or songs. The intelligent story structured around a skull justifies the title. Though the initial parts of the film have less to offer, the back story makes for an interesting watch. The success of thrillers relies on the logic they stick to. But here the film fumbles.

The director had a good story to tell but the execution is patchy and the overlong run time adds to the misery. Except for Giriraj BM, Yamuna Srinidhi, and Ashok Hegde, the rest of the performances are amateurish.

Music director Sachin Basrur, cinematographer Praveen M Prabhu, and editor Shanthakumar have complimented this film in their respective departments.

Vinay Yadunandan deserves a thumbs up for making something out of the regular commercial masala potboilers. If you are patient enough to sit through, Kapala will keep you at the edge of your seats, especially in the second half.

RETURN OF THE NA'VI

SHILAJIT MITRA

JAMES Cameron's epic science fiction eco-parable Avatar (2009) is re-releasing in theatres on September 23. The impetus is obvious: the first sequel, Avatar: The Way of Water, opens globally in December. It makes sense that viewers would want to reacquaint themselves with the world of Pandora on the big screen before plunging into its oceanic depths. It's not the kind of opportunity you'd like to miss on its own terms. Cameron, however, supplies a more immediate reason to book that 4K HDR IMAX seat. "It's been over 12 years since the release, so basically if you're under 22 or 23 years of age, it's very unlikely that you've seen the film in a movie theatre." Which basically means that... "you haven't seen the film."

Cameron is talking during a virtual global presser hosted by Jon Landau, his producer and friend since Titanic (1999). On Zoom, Cameron, now 68, looks as calm and focused as ever, if also a tad preoccupied. He and his team only recently wrapped the restoration process of Avatar. It kind of blew them all away, he shares with a glint. "It's hard to say this with any degree of humility, but we are really impressed with how the movie looks. Just the physical experience of the film... we're really excited to share it with people."

In Avatar, paraplegic ex-marine Jake (Sam Worthington) replaces his deceased twin on a space mission to Pandora. "You're not in Kansas anymore," grunts Colonel Miles Quaritch (Stephen Lang), head of security detail, when the troops arrive. Jake's role, we quickly learn, is in the upstart science department, neurologically piloting tall, blue-skinned humanoids sent in to infiltrate the native Na'vi. Jake escapes Thanators, falls in love, links up with a giant dragon-like bird and mobilizes an epic indigenous mass movement against the greedy earthlings.

"The first time I read the script, it had things like floating mountains and carnivorous alien cats," recalls Sam Worthington, still giddy from the rush and adventure of it all. In the end, Sam, like everyone else involved, just went along with his director's vision—standard protocol on any Cameron film.

"That's how we did it," Sam chuckles, recalling his time inside 'the volume', an expansive studio floor Cameron outfitted with infrared cameras to mo-cap his actors. "It was Jim every day saying, "Look, I'm gonna create something that will translate to floating mountains... and I need you to jump off it."

Sigourney Weaver, no stranger to capricious yet fascinating 'alien' environments, looks back with pride that Cameron called on her to play a scientist in Avatar. She played Dr. Grace Augustine, the tough, wise (and very chain-smoking) lead of the Avatar programme. Late in the film, she takes a fatal gunshot wound from Quaritch. "I need to get samples," she purrs in Jake's arms, looking up at the mystical and bioluminescent 'Tree of Souls' into which she'll ultimately pass.

"Well, you know, Jim is a scientist, and that may be his first love," Sigourney says. "He gave my character this whole new universe of a new flora and fauna, taking it so seriously. Even things that seemed impossible had incredible science behind it. He wasn't dumbing things down for the mass audience. In fact, he was lifting 'em up."

Neil Gaiman confirms work on season 2 of The Sandman has started despite no renewal from Netflix

NEIL Gaiman, who acts as the co-writer and showrunner of The Sandman, has confirmed that they have started working on season 2 of the show despite no renewal from Netflix. The fantasy series, based on Gaiman's graphic novel of the same name, ended its first season run on 5 August. The makers then went on to release a two-part bonus episode on 11 August to boost the viewership numbers.

Now, nearly a month after its release, Netflix is yet to renew the series for a second season. Neil Gaiman, who also acts as an executive producer in the show, made his displeasure with the delay in renewal through a series of Tweets.

In a recent interview, the VFX supervisor of the show Ian Markiewicz confirmed that they have started working on the VFX shots for the second season of the show. Ever since the interview went live, fans have been speculating that Netflix had confirmed the second season.

Neil Gaiman put down the rumours and announced that Netflix has still not renewed the series and yet The Sandman team has started working on the script and VFX for the second season just in case it gets picked up.

Gaiman earlier confirmed through his Twitter handle that networks other than Netflix are still interested in The Sandman and that he would take it up to other networks in the worst-case scenario where Netflix doesn't end up renewing the series for a second season.
